The streets in the storm district are being patrolled today by the local militia companies, which were ordered out last night by Gov. Samford on the request of Mayor Drennan.

Every town in Jones Valley, of which Birmingham is the center, was a victim, and all suffered heavily.

In the town of Brighton, the schoolhouse, where 200 children had gathered for the day, was wrecked and several of them were injured. The village of Green's Springs suffered and several buildings were demolished.

At Irondale three persons were killed and several injured.

In Birmingham Mamie Hudson, daughter of Mrs. B. B. Hudson, a commission merchant, and her trained nurse were buried under the debris of the house and both were dead when their bodies were recovered.

There is intense excitement all over the city and accurate details are unobtainable. The reports are full of the sick and injured and the physicians are too busy to stop and ask names.

The Commercial Club has been called together for this afternoon to take steps for the relief of the suffering. A relief fund of $500 has already been received.

The property damage is estimated by a conservative authority at $400,000. The street cars have been stopped, as wires and poles are down for many blocks. They will probably not resume business until tomorrow.

The path of the storm was wide. It covered practically every hamlet in Jefferson County.

The following cities were especially visited: Birmingham, Pratt City, Bessemer, Irondale, Brighton, North Birmingham, Trussville and Weems.

At Irondale, the killed are:

G. W. GARDINER, a white carpenter.
MAMIE AND CLARENCE HUNTER, aged 4 and 10, colored.

Wounded:

Murk Triplett,
Clay Gere.
Will Gardner.

Twenty houses were razed to the ground.

At Brighton, the schoolhouse was demolished and the daughters of Mrs. Studder and Mrs. Walker were severely injured on the head.

At Pratt City, the Methodist Church, the High School building, the commissary of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Co. and 30 negro shacks were demolished. The villages of Trussville and Weems are reported destroyed, but word cannot be received from them, as all telegraph and telephone wires are down.

President Robert Jamison of the Birmingham Railway, Light and Power Co. estimates the property loss in Birmingham alone at $200,000.

The towns of North Birmingham and Woodlawn and Avondale were also visited and scores of houses were damaged, but no loss of life is reported there.

Mayor Drennen, who is directing the relief work, estimates that $10,000 will relieve the immediate wants of the sufferers. The larger part of this has already been raised among citizens, and a citizens' meeting will be held at noon to raise the remainder and to more perfectly organize the distribution of the relief funds.

SEVERE MICHIGAN STORM.

ADAMSVILLE, Mich., March 26.—This vicinity was swept by a cyclone yesterday afternoon, which caused considerable property damage and seriously injured one woman. Mrs. Frank Kerr was alone in a farm house near Eagle Lake when the wind tore it to pieces, and she received serious injuries. In this village Manling Bros.' store was demolished, and the cemetery was greatly damaged by the cyclone. Fifteen acres of timber, three miles east of Edwardsville, were practically razed.

The wind sucked all the water out of Christiana Creek here and formed an immense waterspout. The village of Pavilion was struck by the storm and much damage done.

MAY BE USED FOR THEATER

Emilie Building Has Been Sold for $425,000.

MAY BE FOR CASTLE SQUARE

PURCHASER WAS REPRESENTED BY L. E. ANDERSON OF MERCANTILE TRUST CO.

Corner Is One of the Most Prominent Downtown and It Is Said That the Old Building Will Be Replaced.

The Emilie building, at the southwest corner of Ninth and Olive streets, was sold by the Emilie Building Co. Tuesday to the Mercantile Trust Co. for $425,000.

The seller was represented in the transaction by E. H. Benoist and the buyer by L. E. Anderson, vice-president of the Mercantile Trust Co. It is said Mr. Anderson is really representing a non-resident.

The sale has revived a story that the corner is to be used for a theater building to accommodate the Castle Square Opera Co., and that Mr. Savage is the purchaser.

President Savage left St. Louis Monday for Boston, and Mr. C. M. Southwell, his local representative, told the Post-Dispatch he knew nothing of the deal.

When Mr. Anderson was asked whether the Castle Square Opera company had purchased the property, he said:

"I don't think there will be anything in it for Savage."

It is known that capitalists, who have been promised the patronage of Mr. Savage, have made efforts to procure the property on Olive street, near Ninth street, upon which to erect a theater for his use, and this fact has given currency to the rumor that the Emelie property will be used in this way.

A close friend of Mr. Savage told the Post-Dispatch Tuesday that an offer to build a theater for him at the northwest corner of Twelfth and Olive streets is being considered and that it is looked upon favorably by him. It is said he regards that site as the most desirable for a theater in St. Louis, now that the World's Fair has been assured. This friend is also authority for the statement that Mr. Savage has not definitely decided what he shall do, but is awaiting the action of his St. Louis friends who are willing to build for him.

Notwithstanding the uncertain condition of his plans, it is regarded as certain by his friends that he will have a theater in St. Louis by next season.

If this should prove true St. Louis will probably have two more new playhouses by the opening of the next season. Besides Mr. Savage's, another has been planned for the use of the big theatrical syndicate. It is said this building will also be on Olive street. It will be a combination office and theater structure and will cost in the neighborhood of $800,000.

The plans have been drawn by W. Albert Swasey and approved by the promoters, and it is expected that the contracts will be let next week, after which the work on the structure will begin immediately.

TOOK POISON AT A HOTEL

Otto Specht, of Poplar Bluffs, Mo., Victim of Strychnine.

REGISTERED AS CHAS. R. GALE

IDENTIFIED BY BROTHERS WHO LIVE IN THIS CITY.

Name of Young Lady, Miss Anna M. Prossner, Found in Notebook—Says She Did Not Know Him.

Otto Specht of Poplar Bluff, Mo., died early Tuesday morning from an overdose of strychnine taken at the Grand Hotel, Sixth and Chestnut streets.

He registered there at 6 o'clock Monday evening as Charles R. Gale and for several hours after the body was discovered at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning there was doubt as to his identity.

St. Louis relatives of Specht called at the Morgue at noon, however, and positively identified the body. They said the dead man has two brothers in St. Louis, one a druggist at Elliot and Sheridan avenues, and the other an employe of the city water department.

The name of Miss Anna M. Prosser of 5217 Cass avenue was found in the back of a notebook left by the man, but Miss Prosser, after viewing the remains, said she had never seen the man before and had no idea how her name happened to be in his book.

Miss Prosser is employed at the Seneret Chemical Co., 514 Elm street. "That is my name and address," she said to the Post-Dispatch. "I wrote that myself. It is unquestionably my writing, and it must have been written within the past year. But I have no remembrance of writing it. I have only lived on Cass avenue for a year, so it must have been written within that time. It is very mysterious."

Miss Prosser could not recognize any of the other belongings left by Specht.

Late Monday night a man about 24 years old entered the Grand Hotel and registered as Charles H. Gale. He was assigned by Clerk J. E. Renfro to room 63 on the third floor. The price of the room was 20 cents.

At 3 o'clock Tuesday morning J. Gonser, who occupied a room adjoining, heard groans coming from room 63. He called to the man, who said he was sick and asked for a doctor. The clerk notified the police, who forced open the door.

While being carried to the ambulance he was asked where he was from, and managed to gasp "Florida." On the way to the Dispensary he died, and the body was conveyed to the morgue.

The memorandum book, in addition to the name of Miss Prosser, contained also the names J. H. Jones and C. D. Smith, Poplar Bluff. He also had a pin photograph of a young lady, a Canadian copper cent, a knife and a few other trinkets. There was also a vial containing strychnine.

In the memorandum book was a note indicating that someone had paid taxes for Dr. F. Specht. The amount paid was $14.17, and included in the items was 80 acres of land.

CHILD KILLED BY A FENDER

Fifteenth Street Car Victim in St. Louis Since Jan 1.

MANY OTHERS WERE INJURED

DEATH RECORD OF MORE THAN ONE PERSON A WEEK.

If Record Is Maintained More than 60 Persons Will Meet Death on St. Louis Street Car Tracks In 1901.

Irma Bauer, the 5-year-old child who was run over by a street car Monday afternoon, died Tuesday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bauer, 2109½ Utah street.

The little Bauer girl is the fifteenth person that has been killed by the street cars in St. Louis since the beginning of the year—an average of over one victim a week.

The child was on her way to the butcher shop. She tried to cross the car tracks at Missouri avenue and Cherokee street in front of car No. 81 of the Cherokee street line of the St. Louis Transit Co. The fender caught, but failed to save her. She rolled under it, and was held between the fender and the street.

She was carried 50 feet before the car was checked. Her head was mangled, and she received internal injuries. Dr. McGinnis dressed her injuries, but said there was little hope.

Little Irma came to St. Louis from Munich with her mother six months ago. Her father, who had emmigrated first, had denied himself every pleasure in order to bring his wife and Irma to America.

The other 14 fatalities on St. Louis street car tracks have been scattered over the three months of the year that have already passed. Four took place in March, six in February and four in January.

Here is a complete list of the victims of the St. Louis electric cars for the first three months of the twentieth century, as compiled from the records of the coroner's office:

Jan. 4.—John Ruthsatz, 57, 4318 Linton avenue, struck by car 595 of the Grand avenue line at Florissant and Linton avenues.

Jan. 10.—William Brandhorst, 51, 4915 Alsace, teamster, struck by car 1550 of the Easton avenue line at Easton and Arlington avenues. The coroner's verdict in this case was manslaughter.

Jan. 10.—Peter Andreas, 63, 3516 North Fourteenth street, died of traumatic pneumonia, the result of fractured ribs received in a collision with car 1727 of the transit company.

Jan. 28.—William Happel, 60, 1941 Benton street, killed at Twelfth and Cass avenue by car No. 20 of the Cass avenue line. The coroner's jury found his death due to a defective fender.

Feb. 10.—James F. Devine, 1804½ North Jefferson avenue, killed in front of 5833 Manchester avenue in a collision of a wagon which he was driving and a Suburban car.

Feb. 8.—William Wolters, 43, plumber, 721 North King's highway, struck by a Suburban car at King's highway crossing.

Feb. 10.—Charles Steeber, 10 years, 2119 Obear avenue, struck by Bellefontaine car.

Feb. 9.—William Thompson (colored), 39, 4218A Kennerly avenue, struck by car 320 of the O'Fallon Park division of the Suburban road while driving in a buggy past the corner of Fair and Margaretta avenues.

Feb. 26.—John M. Cummins, bridge builders, 36, 2104 North Ninth street, run over by wagon on Broadway near Tyler street, after being precipitated from the platform of car No. 1763 of the Broadway line.

Feb. 28.—Michael K. Carney, 11 years old, 2828 Sheridan avenue, struck at Jefferson and Sheridan avenues by car No. 2177 of the Jefferson avenue line.

March 16.—Charles H. Pope, 51, Shrewsbury Park, died from injuries received March 4 in being crushed between grip car No. 5 and trailer 271 of the Olive street line.

March 20.—Miss Lee Conrad of California, Mo., 26 years old, killed at Delmar and Walton avenues by Car No. 2149 of the Olive street line. The coroner's verdict said the motorman was negligent.

March 22.—Mrs. Sarah Gerue, 75 years old, 616 Marion street, killed in front of 1535 South Broadway by Car No. 8 of the Broadway line. The coroner's verdict held that the car was going at an unlawful rate of speed.

March 23.—Katie Wright, music teacher, 30, 5153 Kensington avenue, killed by Car 169 of the Suburban road, just east of Clarendon avenue crossing. The coroner's verdict failed to decide whether this was a case of accident or suicide.

In addition to this list, there have been a number of persons injured by the electric cars during the past three months without fatal results.

HEARD ARGUMENT ON PARKS.

Henry Hitchcock Argued That Their Use Would Violate Charter.

But one speaker appeared Monday afternoon to oppose the proposition to allow the use of Forest, O'Fallon or Carondelet Park, as a site for the World's Fair, at the public hearing given by the committee on municipal affairs of the City Council, to which the Wiggins bill was referred.

Henry Hitchcock, brother of Secretary of the Interior E. A. Hitchcock, argued from article 8, section 4, of the city charter that the Municipal Assembly had no authority to divert the parks to such a purpose.

Judge Leo Rassieur replied that the proposed ordinance did not violate the charter. Judge John H. Terry, James Kinealy, Samuel Simmons and J. L. Hornsby cited reasons why, in their opinion, one of the parks would have to be chosen as the site for the Fair. Mr. Kinealy spoke with special reference to O'Fallon Park, while Mr. Hornsby was for Carondelet Park.

Judge Terry said the Fair directors could not afford to buy a site, as property owners would immediately raise their prices, while condemnation proceedings could be indefinitely retarded by litigation.

The advocates of Forest Park as the site argued that the principal buildings should be located on the prominent and sightly elevations, leaving the woded valleys. Some of the buildings could be made permanent and used afterward for art galleries, museums, etc. The committee will probably report the bill this week.

COMMISSION'S NAMES TODAY.

The List Will Be Announced After the Cabinet Meeting.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—It is believed that the President has finally completed his list of commissioners for the St. Louis World's Fair with one exception.

Representative McCleary of Minnesota called at the White House today to put in a final word for Prof. Northrup and came away with the impression that it was hardly necessary.

The President hopes to make the announcement of the commission after the cabinet meeting today. The only question that is giving concern is about the chance between John M. Allen of Mississippi and E. D. Scott of Arkansas. The President wants to appoint Mr. Allen and also wants to oblige Senator Jones of Arkansas.

Aside from this doubt the commission stands composed of the four ex-senators: Carter, Lindsay, Thurston and McBride—ex-Representative Glynn of New York, Frederick A. Betts of Connecticut, John F. Miller of Indiana and Cyrus Northrup of Minnesota, with Joseph Flory of Missouri for secretary.

DR. JOHN GRANT LYMAN, MISSING PROMOTER.
Dr. Lyman was so deeply concerned in the recent Joplin Zinc Co. collapse that he was forced to give up his seat on the New York Stock Exchange. He is now gone, no one appears to know where. His clerks have not been paid, and his affairs are supposed to be in bad condition. He sold his Stock Exchange seat for more than $50,000. Officers are now attaching all his property upon which they can lay hands.

NOW OFFICERS ARE SEIZING HIS EFFECTS TO SATISFY SHAREHOLDERS OF THE INTERNATONAL ZINC COMPANY.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Acting under authority of a writ issued by the State Supreme Court, sheriff's officers have levied upon all the effects in sight of Dr. John Grant Lyman, promoter and speculator and real head of the International Zinc Co. of Joplin, Mo. The action was brought by Chas. F. Stewart to recover $26,550, and the attachment was procured on allegations that Lyman is either concealing his person or has departed from the state in order to defraud creditors.

Stewart alleges that Lyman and Hartwell, who were members of the firm of Joshua Brown & Co.; Albert C. Foster and John B. Carmichael of Omaha, conspired to advance the price of the shares of the company by false reports of its solvency and earnings and the amount and value of its property. Their purpose, he says, was to cause the public to buy at prices beyond the value of the shares.

The officers attached the doctor's red automobile in which he used to ride about Central Park. Its value is $6000. They also attached the proceeds of Lynam's Stock Exchange seat, amounting to $52,000. There is no trace of the whereabouts of Lyman. All that is known is that he is absent from his accustomed haunts.

Lyman Had a Meteoric Career.

The more that is learned of the career of the man the greater becomes the wonder at his success in evading exposure, and at his having been able to pass the scrutiny of such a careful body of men as the Governing committee of the New York Stock Exchange. That Dr. Lyman's promotion schemes were of a very shady character had been known for years in the Wall street district and in London.

For about six years now Dr. John Grant Lyman has been a conspicuous figure in this city. When not promoting mining schemes or visiting Europe he has been lounging in the Waldorf-Astoria, paying attention to women or disporting himself in a red automobile along the avenue. The success of his zinc promotion must have been phenomenal, for when he returned from Europe in the fall he brought with him a magnificent sable overcoat, which his friends say cost $12,000, and since Christmas he has added to this a sable rug, a present from his wife, which cost $5000 more. In physical makeup he is a tall, well-built man, with large "sheep eyes," and is notable for wearing his mustache a la the Emperor William, the two points brushed up to an angle which threatened the sight of his large and languorous eyes. His hands were loaded down with great jewels.

Conspicuous as has been Dr. Lyman in this city, it was in Europe that he has cut the widest swath. Last year he was without doubt the most conspicuous American in Paris. The humbly named firm of honest Joshua Brown & Co. had become a mint to Dr. Lyman. He occupied a magnificent suite at the Hotel Ritz, took abroad with him not only his valet and his wife's maid, but also his coachman and footman, and a further retinue of servants, and his horses and his carriages. It involved enormous expenses, but all the bills were paid through the stock subscriptions that poured in.

With his entourage he made a magnificent show at the races at Longchamp and Auteuil. At night nothing was too good for him at D'Armoneville, at Voislin's or Paillard's. Later one might see him at the Cafe de Paris or Maxim's, and he even aspired to admission to that most exclusive of clubs, the Cercle Rue Royale. At least he told his friends that he hoped for admission there or to the Jockey Club, of both of which King Edward VII is a member.

New York made the first acquaintance of Dr. John Grant Lyman about six years ago. He spent the summer of 1895 at Narragansett Pier, and made himself very agreeable to the women there. The winter and spring of 1895 and 1896 found him in Europe. He visited Paris, Nice and Monte Carlo, and upon his return told some remarkable stories of his experiences. He was wildly enthusiastic about the gay life of the foreign capitals, and confessed to his Narragansett Pier friends that nothing but New York, Narragansett Pier and Newport in this country would satisfy him. Thereupon he made his home at the Waldorf-Astoria.

The Beginning of Dr. Lyman.

John Grant Lyman was born in the town of Phelps, Ontario County, N. Y., thirty-six years ago. Like many another boy who has become a financially successful man, he took little interest in his studies and preferred to see what was going on in Main street. His father for many years was a prominent business man of the village, conducting a general store and operating a malt house.

Before coming of age Grant Lyman went to Canada for a prolonged visit. On the death of his father he inherited some property and left the little town of thirteen hundred inhabitants for good. The nearest place of consequence is Geneva, eight miles away, but it was too small for the young man's talents.

He came to New York and entered the Homeopathic College, was graduated in 1890 and went to Chicago. He chose the specialty of aurist, and in the western city did a large business in the sale of gold-plated ear drums, for which he realized extremely high prices from well-to-do clients.

After leaving Chicago Dr. Lyman returned to the city of his graduation, and became a practicing physician at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Dr. Lyman is said to have won the friendship of John W. Gates, the steel and wire magnate, through attending his wife as a physician. He has always had plenty of money, and has lived expensively. To inquirers he has said he made his money abroad, in the London stock market, and that practically all his successes were made in England.

To others he has said that he got his start by having had a large amount of money left him before he departed from his native village. He has always been delighted to meet Phelps people in New York, and has passed as being fabulously rich, having made many fortunate ventures. He has never interested any of his old townsmen, however, in his schemes.

Dr. Lyman is 6 feet tall, broad-shouldered, and overflowing with health. He dresses in a striking manner with fur-lined coats and the latest styles in men's apparel. His house is furnished with disregard of cost. His automobile establishment is one of the most expensive in the country, managed by an imported chaffeur, who has no need to stint his expenses.

The International Zinc Company.

Dr. Lyman formed the firm of Joshua Brown & Co., inducing Joshua Brown to lend the use of his name. Brown was nominally head of the concern, but really had no control over its affairs. He appears to have been wholly unaware of what was going on. This firm financed the International Zinc Co., operating Joplin mines.

The stockholders in the International Zinc Co. met recently to save what was possible and see what could be done toward punishing those guilty of misrepresentations.

The auditors' report of June 1, 1900, as printed in an advertisement, furnishes a great contrast to the receiver's report. The balance sheet of the first gave the value of "mining property, leases and mills" as $599,500. The receiver gives the value at $75,000 at the outside, with $35,000 owing even on that amount.

According to Chairman Dougherty of the reorganization committee, Lyman said he owned 125,000 shares. At another time he said he owned [illegible] shares. Mr. Dougherty thinks the actual amount [illegible] two numbers.

The reorganization committee has met daily since its appointment to push its work, and it intends to take up the question of criminality after it saves the one good mine from being sold. James F. McNaboe and Herbert B. Shoemaker, with Charles H. A. Dougherty, form the committee at work.

Dr. Lyman recently bought from L. C. Gillespie for $130,000 the property at No. 3 East Sixty-third street, consisting of a four-story brown-stone house. He has given a commission to C. H. P. Gilbert, a prominent architect, to erect in its place a five-story American basement brick and limestone dwelling, which, when ready for occupancy, will have cost $250,000, making in all $380,000.

Meanwhile the many holders of International Zinc stock are asking what became of the $600,000 paid into the treasury for a property which the receiver says is worth at the outside $75,000, on which $35,000 is still owed.

Lyman has been out of New York City since Friday. On that day he wrote a note to one of the employes in his brokerage office, saying that he had become very nervous over the publicity given him and over his troubles with the Exchange and that he had gone out of town for a rest. Dr. Lyman did not say where he had gone. The note did not reach this employe until last Monday.

Dr. Lyman has held no communication with his employes since his departure. Most of them have quit. There were three young women employed there as stenographers. The last of them went away yesterday.

The persons who remain in the office are holding on in the hope that they will soon hear from their late employer. They wish to talk to him on the subject of salaries and to get instructions concerning the winding up of the business.

If those in charge of the offices do not hear from Dr. Lyman within the next few days, the office will be closed, and Dr. Lyman's name will be taken off the door. Then the end of the promoter's Wall street career will have been reached.

WEATHER WILL BE FAIR

The rainfall that Weather Observer Hyatt had planned for St. Louis for Tuesday was sidetracked in the West and passed over the great lakes. Dr. Hyatt says this assures fair weather for St. Louis for two days.

"The temperature will be stationary. All the clouds will disappear from the sky by Tuesday night, and St. Louis will see the sun again Wednesday," he said.

"My map indicates a great deal of uncertainty after Thursday. The chances are that the weather will continue fair through the week, but rain is brewing all around us, and may come our way. Plenty of rain fell south and north of us Monday night, and if the general low had not run against a barrier in the [illegible]

PLANS VOLCANO AS A FEATURE

A. R. Farmer Would Light Fair by Unique Method

HE IS A MODERN ALADDIN

WOULD PLACE MONSTER FIRE ON A GREAT TOWER.

Another Feature Would Be an Elevator Without Ropes to Carry Sightseers to the Top of the Crater.

Perhaps the most startling conception for a World's Fair attraction yet attempted is one which Arcidas R. Farmer of 1602 Park avenue has in mind. Mr. Farmer proposes to build an eruptive volcano at the top of a 1000-foot tower, which is to illuminate the Exposition grounds and the city of St. Louis and be visible in the State of Illinois as far down as the Egyptian darkness and as far north as Alton, not to speak of a few counties in Missouri.

"We all have a vague idea of what a volcano is," said Mr. Farmer to the Post-Dispatch, "but only those who have traveled have seen one. The school children all read about them in their textbooks. Why not give them an object lesson in volcanoes?

"By a certain method of illuminating which I patented 10 years ago in Canada I can produce the effect of a volcano in action. At night this will illuminate the fair grounds and the city and will be visible for nearly a hundred miles if placed at the top of a tower 1000 feet high."

This new Aladdin lived in Chicago during the Columbian Exposition and observed the great electric searchlight. The volcano idea suggested itself.

Another feature which Mr. Farmer proposes to suggest to the World's Fair management is a ropeless elevator for the tower leading up to the volcano. The rope elevator for such a height he argues will be dangerous, and many persons will refuse to make the trip. The possibility of the cables parting when the cage is several hundred feet up in the air is not pleasant to contemplate.

Mr. Farmer is now working on a model of a ropeless elevator system of his invention. He would have a cage about 20 feet square, or even larger, to accommodate a large number of passengers. Instead of being operated by cables Mr. Farmer's elevator will run by means of screws revolving in threaded sockets. There will be at each corner of the cage a secure post of brass or Babbitt metal, running to the top of the tower, which will be made of steel framework. These posts will be hollow, but so securely braced that they cannot spread or crumble. On the inner side of each will be a slot running the entire length. Set in each post will be a pole, or screw, the height of the elevator cage. Under the floor of the cage will be a large cog wheel, placed horizontally. Four smaller cog wheels, one at each corner of the cage, will engage the screw poles, which, fitted to the threads in the sockets, will work up or down, carrying the elevator along.

The motive power will be electricity. The elevator, in fact, will be operated much in the same manner as a trolley car. Several motors placed under the floor of the cage, as under the floor of a car, will be fed with the electric fluid by means of an ingenious device of Mr. Farmer's, which will render it impossible for the elevator to "slip its trolley."

Mr. Farmer believes that he has invented an elevator system that will come into general use, and he hopes to demonstrate its absolute safety at the World's Fair.

WOODWORKERS WALK OUT

Nearly 350 Men Quit Work Because Manufacturers Would Not Meet Their Demand For More Salary.

About 350 union woodworkers, employed by manufacturers of refrigerator, bar and office fixtures, walked out Tuesday morning. The plants of the Claes & Lehnbeuter Manufacturing Co., Staudte & Rueckoldt Manufacturing Co., Hollrah-Dieckmann Refrigerator and Fixture Co. and the Beattie Manufacturing Co. were among those affected by the strike.

The Woodworkers' Union some time ago promulgated a new wage scale, which was refused by the manufacturers. On Monday an amended scale was offered, with an invitation to the employers to attend a conference with leaders of the union that evening at their down-town headquarters, on Franklin avenue.

The men say this request was also refused, and that in accordance with orders from the headquarters of the union, they refused to go to work Tuesday.

The men went quietly to their homes, and most of the plants affected shut down for the day. Most of the employers, as well as the leaders of the strike, expressed the opinion that the strike would be of short duration.

At the office of the Claes & Lehnbeuter Manufacturing Co., Twenty-second and Washington avenue, it was stated that 140 men employed there were out. The demand of the union was for 30 cents an hour, and the amended demand for 28 cents for cabinet makers, as against the previous rate of 25 cents. The finishers wanted 25 cents, instead of 22½, and for "outside work," the cabinet makers wanted an increase from 45 to 50 cents and the finishers an increase from 31½ to 37½ cents an hour.

George Rueckoldt, president of the Staudte & Rueckoldt Manufacturing Co., De Kalb and Soulard streets, said: "We were willing to grant the increase asked, but desired the men to wait until business began to pick up a little on account of the World's Fair. Our 55 men all belong to the union and all quit."

At the plant of the Hollrah-Dieckmann Refrigerator and Fixture Co., Eighth street and Park avenue, George H. Hollrah said: "There was only a difference of one-half cent between our men and ourselves when they quit, under orders from the union. The men have all gone home, and there is no disturbance of any kind." The firm employs 50 men.

Only the foreman and a few boys were at work at the plant of the Beattie Manufacturing Co., 2206 Pine street, Tuesday morning, the other 50 or more having walked out. Mr. Beattie said they did not expect the men to act before April 1, although the first demand was made several weeks ago.

The headquarters of the Amalgamated Woodworkers' Union is at 1026 Franklin avenue. The leaders expressed confidence that their demands would be met.

IT CAME BACK.

The Doctor's Wife Found Her Complexion Again.

Coffee is no respecter of persons when is comes to the poisonous effects thereof. A prominent physician's wife of Monticello, Ind., says that coffee treated her very badly indeed, giving her a serious and painful stomach trouble, and a wretched, muddy complexion.

Her husband is a physician of the regular school and opposed to both tea and coffee, so he induced her to leave them off and take on Postum Food Coffee.

The stomach trouble disappeared almost like magic, and gradually her complexion cleared up; now she is in excellent condition throughout.

There are thousands of highly organized people who are made sick in a variety of different ways by the use of coffee, and most of these people do not suspect the cause of their trouble. They think that others can drink coffee and are well, and they can, but about one person out of every three is more or less poisoned by coffee, and this can be proved by leaving off coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee. In nearly every case the disorder will be greatly relieved or entirely disappear. It is easy enough to make a trial and see whether coffee is a poison to you or not.

The name of the doctor's wife can be given upon application to the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., at Battle Creek, Mich.

WARRANTS ARE MISSING

Grandjury Investigates Conduct of Sheriff's Office to Find What Became of Them.

Three warrants, issued by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Johnson, have disappeared and the grandjury is making an inquiry into the conduct of the sheriff's office during the period when the warrants were given that office for service.

Mrs. C. L. Thompson of 1230 North Seventeenth street secured a warrant, charging her husband with wife abandonment. Sheriff Pohlman was then in office. The warrant was mislaid, so Attorney Johnson was informed, and he issued another charging the same offense. It went astray in a similar manner.

Mrs. Thompson called upon Attorney Johnson Monday and laid before him evidence which she considered sufficient to secure a warrant charging bigamy. This was denied, but she was advised that her warrants for wife abandonment were still in force. She then brought the matter to the attention of Circuit Attorney Folk.

Mrs. Thompson is said to be highly connected, being related to several of the oldest French families in the city.

A warrant charging embezzlement against Gus Heuser was issued Dec. 10, while Sheriff Pohlman was in office. Chief Deputy Charles Bilhartz, under Sheriff Dickmann, was asked Tuesday what had become of the warrant. Investigation of the records showed that no return had ever been made. This matter was also brought to the attention of Circuit Attorney Folk.

TWO DESMONDS GET TOGETHER.

Chief Is Entertaining a Cousin of the Same Name.

William M. Desmond, formerly United States Marshal for the northern district of Iowa, called on William Desmond, chief of detectives, Tuesday morning at the Four Courts.

The two Desmonds are cousins. Both have become famous as catchers of criminals, and the fact that their names are the same has led to the confounding of them in many a humorous complication.

William M. Desmond, the visitor, is an old settler at Clinton, Io. He has watched it grow to a population of 30,000. His fearlessness and shrewdness in dealing with "guns," "sneaks," and petty thieves while he was city marshal, caused his appointment as jailer of the county jail. Then it was but a step to the office of sheriff.

Sheriff Desmond inherits all of the acuteness of the Desmond family as a detector of the wrong doer. His record as sheriff was so crowded with experience in the successful pursuit and capture of big game that when President Grover Cleveland cast about him for a United States marshal for Iowa's northern district he could not find anyone who suited his fancy so well as William M. Desmond, sheriff of Clinton County. Desmond was appointed and took up his official office at Dubuque.

When compelled to retire by President Harrison the voters of Clinton County returned Desmond to the office of sheriff where he served with his old-time vigor until President Cleveland was again inducted into office. He remembered his former marshal for the northern district and recalled him to Dubuque so that Mr. Desmond, who is now out of office, likes to tell the story to show how his fortunes were linked with those of a great statesman.

He will be the guest of Chief of Detectives Desmond for the rest of the week. They expect to swap many a hair-raising detective story over the coals of the chief's grate fire on Cook avenue.

An Incident of Travel.

From the Detroit Journal.

The woman and her children, native Mexicans it was plain, were crying bitterly.

"My husband is drunk," sobbed the woman.

"But is this the adequate occasion for such tumultuous grief?" we asked.

"Si, senor!" said the woman, in Spanish. "For a small greaser means an empty larder, don't you know!"

We handed her a fresh cigar; it was all the stately etiquette of the country permitted us to do.

The Government Course in Cleanliness.

From the Saturday Evening Post.

At the main immigration station of the United States all immigrants are required to take a bath every day that they are detained by the authorities. So far as the government is concerned it is determined to inculcate the importance of cleanliness. In the matter of godliness there is every facility, and clergymen of all denominations are welcome to receive and to help those that belong to their folds. This one thing has a very decided effect upon the new citizens of our republic. One of the most difficult things in Europe is to get a bath. The first thing taught the detained immigrant in this country is that he must keep clean, and this experience in itself carries a lesson which remains with him so long as he has a good conscience. It makes him feel better, and if there is genuine merit within him he keeps up the practice of bathing after he has escaped the authorities.

Ohio Bank Robbers Work With Utmost Precision.

STILL THEY MISSED $35,000

MARCHED SLOWLY FROM BANK TO THEIR VEHICLE.

They Were Under Fire From Citizens, But Got Away Without Losing a Man After Wrecking the Building.

COLUMBUS, O., March 26.—Seven men broke open and robbed the Somerset bank at about 1:30 o'clock this morning. Only about $5000 in cash was taken, the robbers overlooking $5000 in gold coin and $30,000 in bonds and time securities. Three men worked in the bank and four were stationed as sentinels nearby.

At the first explosion Mr. Hayes, living opposite the bank, came out and was met by the sentinel stationed there and told to get back into the house if he did not want his head blown off.

Mr. Lovett, another citizen, took four shots at the robbers as they were escaping. These shots were returned and a regular fusilade was kept up for some time. Armed citizens pursued the robbers some distance north. The police here were notified and all nearby towns instructed to keep a sharp lookout for the robbers.

The sheriff of Berry County, at New Lexington, was notified, and drove to Somerset with his bloodhounds. The dogs readily took up the trail, which led from a blackmith shop, where the tools were obtained, thence to a livery stable and to the bank. Two rigs had been stolen and after the robbers had driven away the officers waited for daylight to follow the wheel tracks.

After the robbers had completed their work the men were lined up in single file, and the leaders gave the orders:

"All ready, forward march."

The robbers were as cool as soldiers on dress parade.

The stolen horses were recovered about 4 a. m., three and a half miles from town, where they had been abandoned. The robbers were then making their way toward Hadley Junction.

The bank at Somerset is located in a brick building, and the force of the explosions blew out the entire front and scattered debris all over the street.

The bank is a state institution. Mr. Samuel Ream is the president and Mr. A. B. Ream the cashier. The loss is fully covered by insurance. The bank is not crippled financially and business will be resumed immediately. The insurance company will put in a new safe and also rebuild the bank building.

WOOLDRIDGE MADE WARDEN.

He Will Assume Charge of Missouri Penitentiary April 1.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 26.—Gov. Dockery this morning appointed Frank M. Wooldridge of Harrisonville warden of the Missouri penitentiary for a term of four years from the third Monday in January, 1901.

Mr. Wooldridge is ex-sheriff of Cass County, and a close political and personal friend of the governor.

Mr. Wooldridge is here this morning, and received his wardenship commission in person. He went to the penitentiary today and acquainted himself as far as possible with the institution, but returned to his home tonight to arrange for bringing his family here. He will take charge of the institution on the first of next month.

Warden Starke, whom Mr. Wooldridge succeeds, will retire to his farm in Cooper County, and take up private life again. The warden receives a salary of $2000 a year, and has a furnished residence to live in.

MANY CATTLE BURIED.

Immense Snow Drifts Block Trains in Colorado.

JULESBURG, Colo., March 26.—The blizzard hat has been raging at Julesburg and vicinity is the worst storm known here since 1890. Many cattle have perished by drifting with the storm. Others have been smothered in snow drifts, in ditches and the river. Huge drifts, each eight to ten feet, block eleven roads. No trains are coming in, and eight or ten passenger trains are blockaded here. In several instances residences are completely surrounded by huge banks of snow.

BREWERS AND THE BEER TAX

Unless They Pay Up, Former Rates Will Stand.

SPEAKER WHITECOTTON'S VIEW

GOV. DOCKERY CAN REFUSE TO SIGN FREE REDUCTION BILL.

Will Necessitate Cutting Down of Appropriations for State Institutions—New Inspector Here.

"If the brewers fail to live up to their agreement, Gov. Dockery will not sign the bill passed by the recent Legislature, reducing the beer inspection fees from 40 to 20 cents a barrel" said Speaker James H. Whitecotton to the Post-Dispatch Tuesday morning.

Mr. Whitecotton, as speaker of the House of Representatives, made aggressive efforts to secure the passage of the new beer law.

According to their verbal agreement with Gov. Dockery, conditioned upon the enactment of a measure lowering the inspection fees, the brewers were not to contest the law, which has been sustained by the State Supreme Court, and it was further stipulated they should pay into the state treasury April 18 the sum of $225,000, in settlement of fees due for the past two years.

It is reported the brewers are unwilling to accede to the terms of the proposition, which was made by Tony Stuever and Adolphus Busch, on behalf of all the brewers of the state.

Kansas City Brewers Object.

A number of the Kansas City brewers held a meeting a few days ago and decided, it is said, to further test the present law, and not to contribute their portion of the $225,000.

State Treasurer Robert P. Williams, Beer Inspector G. Y. Crenshaw and Senator Frank Farris, author of the beer law, arrived in St. Louis Tuesday morning and will probably hold a conference with the St. Louis brewers.

Mr. Williams was a conspicuous advocate of the new beer law and the compromise proposition, and urged the governor to act favorably upon them.

"I am inclined to think," said he, "the brewers are not going to cause the administration trouble. I believe they are willing to abide by the terms of the agreement, although I have been given to undrstand there is opposition in some quarters."

Inspector Crenshaw said: "I am aware that there is objection on the part of some brewers to paying the $225,000. I shall open headquarters either here or in Jefferson City in a few days. My deputies have already been selected, but their names will not be announced just yet."

Appropriations May Be Cut.

Mr. Whitecotton stated that if the state could not realize the $225,000 the governor would be obliged to cut down the appropriations for several state institutions.

The deductions from the allotted funds of the state institutions would amount to about $125,000. Of this, $50,000 would probably be taken from the appropriation for the new Farmington asylum, $35,000 from the Home for the Feeble-Minded at Marshall, a like amount from the St. Joseph asylum and about $30,000 from the Fulton asylum appropriation.

The Southern Railway

CAR STRUCK A BUGGY.

D. P. Wright Was Thrown From the Rig, But Was Not Injured.

Car No. 2085 of the Olive street line collided with a one-horse buggy driven by D. P. Wright of 2919 North Twentieth street, city salesman for the Hoeffhen-Fink Laboratory of 412 South Sixth street, at Broadway Tuesday morning, demolishing the rig and endangering the life of the driver.

The car was going east and Mr. Wright was driving north. He was following immediately behind a wagon that had crossed the tracks, and his horse was nearly over them when he discovered the car bearing down on him. He whipped the animal, but the car caught one of the rear wheels of the buggy and sent the vehicle whirling along the street.

The horse galloped away, but ran only a few yards when the buggy turned over. Mr. Wright was in it at the time, but was not injured. The box was left on the pavement, while the horse ran to Locust street with the running gear. Patrolmen Thompson and Drews stopped him.

Boy Shot His little Sister.

Alfred Morris, 10 years old, son of Wm. Morris of 203 Broadway, East St. Louis, accidenally shot his 2-year-old sister, Dora, in the arm with a 22-caliber revolver Monday afternoon.

The bones of the child were shattered.

Alfred bought the revolver for 50 cents.

Mr. Morris swore out a warrant Tuesday in Judge Maritz Oehler's court for the arrest of H. Chused for selling the revolver to his boy, and the case will be tried Wedneday.

MINE UNDER THE CZAR'S PALACE

Persons Near the Emperor Implicated in the Plot.

ALARM AT CZASKO-SELO

CASTLE WHERE THE RULER IS HEDGED BY SOLDIERS.

He Is Deeply Concerned Over the Discontent Among Students, Which May Grow Into the Dimensions of a Revolution.

LONDON, March 26.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co., from Paris, states on the highest authority, that a mine has been discovered beneath the Palace of Emperor Nicholas at Czarskoe-Selo, 17 miles south of St. Petersburg.

Several notabilities, the dispatch further says, are implicated in the plot against his majesty. The Russian press was not permitted to mention the affair.

Recent dispatches stated that the Czar had gone to Gatchina palace, 30 miles from St. Petersburg, but it is probable that he is at Czarskie-Selo, as the latest mention of the Czar's movements stated that he had held a ministerial council at Czarskoe-Selo.

When the Emperor Is Closely Guarded.

Czarskoe-Selo is the finest imperial residence in Russia. It lies on a great elevation, surrounded with forts, moats and drawbridges.

Until the begining of the eighteenth century a Swedish farm called "Saasky" stood in the place where now stands Czarskoe-Seloe. In 1708 the government changed the farm into a village, but the name remained, and owing to the similarity in the sound the place was soon called, not "Saarsky," but "Czarskoe-Selo," that means imperial village.

The palace or castle was built by Katherine. The interior entirely corresponds with the outside in regard to the size and elegant arrangement of its apartments. One of these has walls composed of panels made of amber.

The most remarkable rooms in the palace are the enormous ballroom, which receives its light from two sides; the gold room, so called from the walls and draperies of gold cloth; the Chinese room, with a number of Chinese pavilions in it, and principally the apartments of Czar Alexander I, which are preserved quite intact. Here we see his bed, his writing table, his uniform and other things he had used till the last.

From the palace into the garden leads the long gallery, which is used for a winter walk. It is 300 feet long and 20 feet wide.

Soldiers guard all the entrances to this castle and there is a regular cordon of troops about its walls. The fact that nihilists have been able to mine the palace indicates clearly that the Czar's guards are untrustworthy.

The Czar Is Growing Timid.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg to Reuter's Telegram says that in consonance with what is believed to be the Czar's expressed wish, the minister of the interior has published instructions for the authorities of the towns and provinces, recommending preventive measures against disturbances, as being more effective than severe repression after disturbances have broken out.

The Birmingham Post, which is closely in touch with Joseph Chamberlain, says news received in high quarters in London indicates that the Czar is in a very nervous state, owing to the condition of the political horizon. It is said that he fears the result of the policy of his ministers in the Far East, while the student troubles and threats against his life, of which there are more than have been published, have completely unnerved his majesty. His medical advisers have strongly counseled a yachting cruise, but the Czar has refused to follow their advice. Those behind the scenes in Russia take a very grave view of the present agitation and think it is the beginning of more serious trouble.

Relying on Police and the Troops.

A circular issued by the minister of the interior blames the police for not crushing the demonstrations at the outset by the dispersion of gathering crowds. It is said the police must learn where and when demonstrations are planned and mass their forces there. Above all order must be restored at any cost, and the authorities must not fear to use the necessary force and severity. The military, the circular further says, can be called upon when firing is necessary and the cavalry may be summoned upon any occasion to clear the streets.

The Russian Authors' Aid Association, founded by the Russian Literary Society, has been ordered to close its premises, owing to the protest to the authorities during the recent riots issued a short time ago.

A student at the St. Petersburg University, named Proskuriakoff, who had been sentenced to two years military service and drafted into a regiment soon to leave for Turkestan, a woman student named Smirnova and Lieut. Kutness of a Sapper battalion, have been found dead near Yamaburg, in the St. Petersburg province. The student held a revolver, and it was evident that the three persons had committed suicide.

The discontent of the students of Russian universities had its origin in the order of the government dissolving all college societies.

In June, 1900, a general congress of Russian students was convened at Odessa. The initiative of this congress was attributed by the government to certain student secret societies. At one of the meetings of the congress the delegates were arrested by the police, and documents found upon them were confiscated. According to the government, the congress of students had been convened for a criminal purpose—the unification of all student clubs into one central organization.

The arrest of the students and the confiscation of their documents did not, however, put a stop to the revolutionary movement among the undergraduates. Noisy protests were made against the action of the Czar's government, and riots even took place on several occasions.

The principal disturbances have been at the St. Vladimir University, at Kieff. In December last the students of the university decided to suspend their studies after the winter holidays if their demands were not complied with. A professor at the university had been removed by the government owing to his sympathy for the student cause, and replaced by a professor who was persona non grata to the students. Seven hundred undergraduates then openly rebelled against the rector (president), whereupon they were arrested and punished by the administrative authorities. The principal leaders were sentenced to from two to five days' improsonment each, and the others were deprived of their university privileges for a year. A general meeting of the students was held to demand that these sentences be annulled. The university authorities having then declared themselves powerless to re-establish order, the governor-general of Kieff sent a detachment of gendarmes to quell the disturbances.

The minister of public education then appointed a committee of fifteen to investigate the nature of the troubles at the University of Kieff. As a result of this inquiry two students were sentenced to three years' compulsory military service, five students to two years' service, and 176 students to one year's service.

As a consequence of these harsh sentences renewed disturbances have taken place at Kieff, and a general uprising of university students throughout the empire is to be apprehended. It is therefore more than ever evident that a radical reform in the exising system of university government in Russia is necessary. It is well known that the Czar himself is strongly in favor of such a reform.

Not Like Schools of Other Countries.

To form a correct idea of the existing Russian university system all preconceived ideas derived from the American system, and, indeed, the British or the German system, must be put aside. The Russian autocratic forms of government is reflected to an extreme degree in the code of discipline prevailing at the state universities. An inspector is appointed by the government to keep a close watch over every university. This inspector is assisted by a small army of assistants, whose duty it is to act as spies over the students, to note their daily manner of life and to ascertain their political opinions. No less a sum than 100,000 rubles a year is spent by the government to defray the expenses of these inspectors and of their assistants.

The students are all drawn from the poorer classes of the population, and this explains why these higher institutions of learning have always been, more or less, centers of Nihilism. Latterly the government has been striving to remedy this evil by encouraging the sons of bourgeois families to enter the universities and also by improving the material condition of the poorer students.

Though the government has, of late, made important grants of money to alleviate the misery of university students—over half a million rubles a year being spent in this manner—this in itself is not sufficient to elevate the moral atmosphere of Russian university life. What is particularly lacking at these institutions is the esprit de corps between professors and students. There are no bonds to bring the students of the several faculties together, no clubs or associations, no class feeling as in the United Kingdom and the United States. The term "university" in Russia is more an expression than a reality.

WILL GO TO BUFFALO.

Commissioners Endeavor to Secure Space for Missouri Exhibits.

E. S. Garver, R. M. Yost and C. C. Bell, president, secretary and treasurer of the Missouri Board of Commissioners to the Pan-American Exposition, left for Buffalo, N. Y., at noon Tuesday over the Vandalia.

The visit will be their first to Buffalo since the organization of the board. They expect to be gone about a week.

The purpose of the trip is to secure as much room as possible for the Missouri exhibits in the various departments. The work of securing this room has been so long delayed by the uncertainty as to what Missouri would do at the exposition that considerable difficulty is expected by the officers of the board in getting all the room they desire.

Mr. Bell, the treasurer of the board, arrived in the city Monday night from his home in Booneville and registered at the Lindell Hotel. Mr. Garver came from Grant City Tuesday morning.

After the return from Buffalo the board will open an office in St. Louis for five or six weeks. During that time a definite decision will be reached as to whether Missouri shall have a state building at Buffalo, in which the World's Fair offices may be located, or whether merely a World's Fair office building shall be erected on the exposition grounds.

SUFFERERS FROM PILES AND RECTAL DISEASES

Have Now a Simple But Effective Cure.

Modern medical science and skill has at last succeeded in producing a remedy which effectually cures that common, but extremely annoying trouble, piles.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is the remedy referred to and repeated and thorough trials of the remedy during the past three years have demonstrated that it is the long sought for remedy which can be depended upon as a genuine cure. There are many remedies which give relief, but such relief is only temporary and the trouble soon returns, as bad, or worse than ever. But the Pyramid Pile Cure stands practically alone as a lasting cure. It not only gives immediate relief, but the relief is there to stay.

Mr. J. W. Rollins writes briefly and to the point regarding his experience with Piles, he says: "I consider the Pyramid Pile Cure without an equal. It cured me in less than thirty days. I waited fifteen days or more to be sure the remedy had fully cured me before writing you. I can now say I am cured and I shall recommend the Pyramid Pile Cure at every possible opportunity because it deserves it."

We quote from this gentleman's letter to show our readers how promptly the remedy acts and also that there is no return of the trouble.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is simple and harmless, containing purely vegetable ingredients and can be used in all cases with perfect safety and with the assurance that a cure will follow. Physicians prescribe it and use it in all cases of piles in preference to the danger and uncertainty of a surgical operation. It cures without pain or inconvenience of any kind.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is prepared by the Pyramid Drug Co. of Marshall, Mich., and sold by druggists everywhere at 50c per package, making it the safest, surest, cheapest pile cure before the public and one you can try with almost certain success.

FROM THE FIRST OF MARCH TO THE END OF MAY

Are The Months That Try The Nerves and Derange The Blood.

Pe-ru-na is Known The World Over as an Ideal Spring Tonic and Blood Purifier.

Why Is It THAT March, April and May are so trying to the nerves and so sure to produce blood derangements? The fact that it is so is known to nearly everybody. But why it is so is not so clear to many.

Some of the reasons are that the bracing air of winter is a thing of the past. The enervating nearness of the spring equinox is felt. The gathering heat of the tropics begins to send premonitions of its approach. The reaction of lassitude that follows the nerve tension of winter insidiously threatens everybody. Hence the prevalence of nervous diseases, flagging energies, depression of spirits, tendency to weariness and a continuous sense of tiredness.

The tonic that restores without stimulating is Peruna. Unlike the bitter tonics of quinine and strychnia, Peruna does not key the nerves up to a high tension, but refreshes and restores them with a lasting exhilaration which only natural strength can bring.

Peruna is not a quick, flashy, temporary prod to the nervous system, but a gentle rejuvenating tonic that restores the nervous system to a perfect balance.

Why is it that the blood gets out of order in the spring? This is directly due to the almost inevitable indigestion of spring. During the winter months much more food is required to protect the body against the vicissitudes of the climate. Digestion has been prodded to its utmost.

As spring approaches the system requires less and soon becomes clogged by excess of nutrition. This loads the blood with unnecessary nutritive material. Very quickly the digestive organs themselves become deranged. Except by the strictest diet this cannot be avoided.

A catarrhal condition of the whole digestive tract very quickly results. Peruna restores digestion by bringing the mucous membranes of the stomach and other digestive organs into a normal condition. This immediately clears the blood of all superfluous material.

To cleanse the stream, the source of the stream must be cleansed. The source of the blood is the digestion. To cleanse the blood the source must be cleansed. Peruna makes perfect digestion. Peruna corrects impure blood by correcting the fountain from which these impurities spring. No medicine can cleanse the blood that does not produce perfect digestion.

The dyspeptic, with his coated tongue, loss of appetite, depressed spirits, has only to take a few doses of Peruna to be amazed at the change that occurs. Peruna quickly dissipates the host of symptoms that attend blood and nerve derangement of springtime.

We have thousands of testimonials from people in all walks of life, attesting the virtues of Peruna as a spring tonic. Governors, senators, congressmen, consuls, diplomats, foreign ministers, bishops, preachers and church dignitaries, college presidents, professors, and tutors, musicians, public speakers, society belles and housewives, the farmer and the mechanic, the humble and the arrogant, the classes and the masses, all give willing and unsolicited testimonial that Peruna is the spring tonic and blood purifier par excellence.

Peruna operates with almost magical promptness and the cures are permanent.

In taking Peruna as a spring remedy, should anyone fail to realize an immediate beneficial effect, he should at once address a letter to Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio, stating the facts in his case, and a free letter of advice will be sent. Each case is considered separately and treated strictly confidential.

JEFFERSON CLUB WINS AGAIN

Court of Appeals Says It Acted Properly When It Expelled Wm. A. Brandenburger.

In a decision Tuesday the St. Louis Court of Appeals sustained the Circuit Court in its refusal to grant a permanent injunction preventing the Jefferson Club from expelling W. A. Brandenburger, treasurer and director, on the ground that he had made statements injurious to the club. The expulsion was made March 3, 1900, after a trial.

Brandenburger was alleged to have said in a speech that the Jefferson Club was a one-man affair and that it was useless to try to do anything with the men high in political power because they would always fall in line at the last moment.

The Court of Appeals holds that such statements, which were not denied by Brandenburger, were sufficient grounds for his expulsion.

The court transfers to the Supreme Court the suit of John H. Overall against the St. Louis Traction Co. for alleged breach of contract on the ground that the amount involved exceeds the limit of the jurisdiction of the Court of Appeals. Mr. Overall is the assignee of the Fourth Street and Arsenal Railway Co., which, it is averred, had a contract for the use of the Traction Co.'s tracks on Fourth street.

In the case of the State against Frank Cornwall from the Court of Criminal Correction, the court holds a man cannot be found guilty of both larceny and embezzlement when the same article is involved in both cases. Cornwall's indictment was on two counts, one for larceny of a picture and the other for embezzlement of it. The jury found him guilty of both charges, and fixed his penalty at $100 fine.

Other cases decided were: J. J. Bick against Perry Overfelt, reversed and remanded; Charles Jacobsmeyer, Jr., and others against Fritz Jacobsmeyer and others, reversed and remanded with directions; John H. Pugh against A. W. Maupin, appeal dismissed; Almedia E. Barrington against William T. Ryan, affirmed; Missouri-Edison Electric Co. against Louis Bry and others, affirmed; Mary E. Manselman against St. Louis & Meramec River Railroad Co., reversed; Peter C. Bopp against Augusta Wittich and others, affirmed; James McAndrew against the St. Louis & Suburban Railroad Co., affirmed; Jason M. Holton against H. L. Stroud, affirmed; International Bank of St. Louis against Andrew J. Haughton, Wilbur F. Parker and others, reversed and remanded with directions; John W. Sykes against the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad Co., reversed, remanded and certified; E. D. Slater and others against Supreme Lodge, K. and L. of H., affirmed; State against William A. Bohnenkamp, reversed; John A. Whiteside against Joseph Tall, reversed and remanded; State ex rel Emma G. Blanke against A. A. Out of the chaos of old-time failure comes a new and startling cure for rupture. Dr. W. S. Rice, 511 N. Main St., Adams, N. Y., has invented a method that cures without pain, danger, operation or an hour's loss of time from the day's work. To avoid all questions of doubt he sends free to every sufferer a free trial of his method and there can be no earthly reason why anyone, rich or poor, should not avail themselves of this generous offer. As an instance of this remarkable method, the cure of Charles Lange, Morrison, Ills., is a welcome piece of intelligence.

Mr. Lange is a well preserved old gentleman 72 years of age and for eighteen years had a bad double rupture which no treatment could cope with. After a short use of the Rice method the left rupture healed entirely and the right was almost closed in a few weeks. To-day he is as sound as a dollar, wears no truss or other support and his cure is only one of hundreds of similar cases reported by those who use the Rice method. Send for this free trial. Don't be backward. It will surprise you with its wonderful power to heal. And if you know of other ruptured people ask them to write or write for them. Do not fail to write at once; do so to-day.

WANTED TO FIGHT GOV. BECKHAM

The Governor Forced to Leave New Orleans.

HOUNDED BY S. B. HARREL

THE LATTER, A KENTUCKY SENATOR, SOUGHT A PERSONAL CONFLICT.

The Kentucky Executive, Whose Wife Is Ill, Decided to Leave Rather Than Have a Conflict.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, March 26.—Gov. Beckham of Kentucky has been compelled to leave this city to avoid a serious conflict with State Senator S. B. Harrel of Bowling Green, Ky., who believes that he has a grievance against Beckham.

Gov. Beckham came to New Orleans two days ago with his wife, who is in ill health. With Adjutant-General Haley and Messrs. McClendon, New, McLoud and Newman, Kentuckians, he stopped at the Grunewalt Hotel.

Senator Harrel has been persistent in his efforts to encounter Beckham in the hotel lobby and from the threatening language used by him, it was believed by Beckham's friends that he was seeking to bring about a personal difficulty. Harrel is here for medical treatment for a nervous complaint.

Harrel was elected to the Senate from Warren County as a Democrat, but his party associates accuse him of deserting his colors in the contest between Goebel and his Republican opponent. He voted with the Republicans, and he finally pulled out of politics and left the state.

The threatened trouble was called to the attention of Chief of Police Gaster and detectives were stationed at the hotel to protect Gov. Beckham should Harrel make an attack on him. The affair, however, caused Gov. Beckham so much annoyance that the Kentucky party left the city.

"The governor has been annoyed so much since his arrival here," said Mr. Newman of the gubernatorial party, "that we have decided to leave the city. Mrs. Beckham's health is not the best in the world, and the unpleasant things which have happened have been of no benefit to her and no benefit to the governor, who came here to take a rest. We believe the best thing to do is to leave and we will leave the city immediately."

Children Struck by a Wagon.

Martha and Erich Kniess, 7 and 9 years old, respectively, living at 2416 North Broadway, were run over by a wagon at Broadway and Benton street and painfully injured at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. The wagon belonged to Henry Weltkamp of 1956 Palm street, which was driven by George Bright. Both children were removed to the office of Dr. Otto Claus, 2625 North Ninth street, where an examination showed that beyond a sprained wrist and several bruises about the body the girl had escaped injury, while the boy suffered a fracture of the right leg and internal injuries. Bright was arrested.

Caught Record-Breaking Bass.

C. H. Duncan of St. Louis participated in the catching of one of the largest specimens of deep-sea bass that fishing annals record. It weighed 350 pounds and is being photographed for the express benefit of the skeptical. Mr. Duncan and J. S. Demoss of Chicago were fishing in Lake Michigan recently and had hooked a large number of barracuda. Later they made connections with something that conducted itself after the manner of a harnessed cyclone and with exceeding difficulty managed to haul the monster on board. It proved a black bass of huge dimensions. It is not stated whether they were fishing with steel cables or ship hawsers.

GREAT LUCK IN TWINS

BELLEVUE HOSPITAL DOCTOR CAN PROVE THIS OLD SAW.

VACATION WITH HIS FIRST PAIR

The Second Brought an Inheritance and a Trip to South America.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Twins have twice brought luck to Dr. James F. Donnelly of the Bellevue Hospital staff.

The first ambulance call he received after joining the staff a few months ago was from East Tenth street. On the way to the hospital a lusty pair of twins was born. The doctor was compelled to stop the ambulance in front of a drug store.

"It's luck in a week it'll bring you, doctor," said an old woman in the throng.

A few days later the Hotel Jefferson fire occurred. So impressed was a wealthy lumberman named Walsh with the ability Dr. Donnelly displayed there that he insisted upon the doctor going to Florida with his family, as Mrs. Walsh was suffering from the fright she received.

Dr. Donnelly only returned to the hospital last week.

He was sent out on an ambulance call, and for the second time he brought to the hospital twins born in the ambulance.

"There's some more luck for you," his colleagues said, laughingly.

Sure enough on Friday he received word that a relative had died and left him some money.

On Saturday J. S. Cochran called at the hospital and asked for a physician to accompany him to South Africa as surgeon-in-chief of a railroad construction company. Dr. Donnelly got the position and sails today. On the vessel are 40 of the owners and stockholders of the company, two locomotives and several thousand tons of rails for the road.

Dr. Donnelly expects to be gone three months. He attributes it all to the twins.

BEST SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

CURRENT SPORTING COMMENT

Dispatches from Hot Springs, Ark., announce the defection of Mike Donlin, reported as having previously signed with the Cardinals, from the National League. John McGraw of the Baltimore Orioles has obtained his signature, say the reports, and is now transporting him to the Monumental City.

Donlin's desertion will probably be deplored by most of St. Louis' baseball followers, yet it is not certain that the Cardinals will suffer by his absence from the home team's roster. He is a promising and at times a brilliant player and a consistently good batter, but certain Celtic proclivities toward conviviality and pugnacity rendered him a most uncertain performer at everything save batting. He was, moreover, a superfluous fielder, as, with Burkett in the game, the outfield will be filled capably without him.

The only other position that Donlin has shown any ability to fill acceptably was that of first base, and the announcement that McGann has signed with the Cardinals lets him out of that job. It is, therefore, a matter of little consequence whether he remains a member of the team or not. He would have proven a valuable substitute, but his services can be dispensed with.

If Donlin really had signed with the Cardinals, as Frank de Haas Robison stated, too much could not be said in condemnation of his action in breaking his word. Such a case of moral obliquity will only redound to the injury of those practicing it. Magnates will have no confidence in the men they sign and their value will depreciate as will salaries.

It is unlikely that Donlin did more than promise Robison verbally. If he signed a contract he could be held on it and he would not be likely to invite litigation. Perhaps Mr. Robison would hardly think it worth while proceeding against him. There would be no money in it and judgments are not marketable.

Signs of a comprise in the turf trouble between the Turf Congress tracks and those of the Western Jockey Club point to an understanding between the two governing bodies. No overtures have been made and probably none will be for some time; but if mutual advantage counts for anything an agreement will be reached. The parties to the conflict are too strong for either one to bring about the extermination of the other. The fight can result only in damage to both sides without either gaining a decided ascendency.

The opening of the Little Rock course Monday, the first of the Turf Congress tracks to brave the outlaw ruling of the Western Jockey Club, was a pronounced success. Horses were plentiful and it was demonstrated that no dearth of racing material would hamper the operation of the older organization.

The only want felt was for good jockeys, and these will doubtless be won over when it is seen that there will be ample employment for them.

From Memphis comes an announcement which will tend to strengthen the position of the Turf Congress people—namely, that the Memphis Jockey Club will recognize those horses operating on outlaw tracks which are entered in the stake events at the Memphis meeting. It is asserted that these entries are in the nature of contracts and are binding on the Jockey Club. If this is the case, the followers of the Turf Congress tracks are in clover. They will have all the purse events they want, while every stake event in the West will be open to their stables.

The Western Jockey Club would doubtless like to begin conciliatory negotiations and perhaps they will be wise to swallow their pride and do so at once. No doubt the Western Club tracks have the class behind them and the money. But they will not be able to make the Turf Congress quit for good and will greatly hurt themselves in attempting it. It is reasonable to suppose the Chicago people and others associated with them will recognize the fallacy of conflict and resort to arbitration. The pocketbook precedes pride.

WILL HONOR WILLIAM CURTIS

Athletes Will Erect a Monument in Woodlawn Semetery.

NEW YORK, March 26.—At a meeting of the general committee, composed of representatives from the leading amateur athletic organizations of the United States and Canada, in charge of the project to provide a lot in Woodlawn Cemetery and to erect thereon a monument in honor of the late William B. Curtis, the "Father of Athletics," who perished from exposure on Mount Washington, A. G. McGill of the New York Athletic Club, chairman of the preliminary committee, reported the collection of about $2000 toward the monument, in addition to $1200 paid for the cemetery lot. The design of the monument recommended by the committee was adopted. It was decided to hold the dedication ceremonies early in October. The monument is to be of granite, in the form of a Greek sarcophagus. It will bear the inscription: "A tribute from the amateur athletes of America."

BROKERS MISSED GRATH

Without Their Star Player They Could Not Win From the Office Men.

Without the services of its star bowler, Eddie Grath, the Brokers' team of the Central Cocked Hat League could not hold up against the strong playing of the Office Men, who won three of four games in Monday night's match. The Office Men captured all their games by good margins, but the Brokers had a very narrow squeak with one of their victories, winning by but one pin. The Office Men were four pins the better throughout, averaging more than 52 as against 48 of their opponents. Only one of the Brokers was able to average above 50, Dierkes, but he made up for the deficiencies of his team mates by scoring 58 for the series. At that he was not the high average man, as Held of the winning team made an even 60. Team averages: Office Men, 52 7-25; Brokers, 48 4-5.

Although the Druggists' team of the Central League were not quite up to championship form, they managed to win four of five games in their match with the Granites. Glessow, as usual, was at the top of the average column with an average of 57 3-5 for the evening. Brenner, also of the winning team, was well up with 53 1-5. Enderle bowled an excellent game, though his average was but 46. A record of fourteen cocked pins explains the low figure. Steinwender, for the Granites, was the high man, 50 3-5. Team averages: Druggists, 48 11-25; Granites, 44 22-25.

The Bucks of the Junior Cocked Hat Association demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Cast-Offs that the latter were not the only team in the league by winning four games from them. The Cast-Offs have been winning with sickening regularity for some time, and it remained for the Bucks to break the winning streak. No sensational bowling characterized the match, and not one of the ten men engaged made as high as 50 for the series. Samuels of the Cast-Offs was the best of the lot, 49 3-5. Team averages—Bucks, 46 3-25; Cast-Offs, 45.

A meeting between the Prairies and the Sherwoods of the Merchants' League resulted in a 4-1 victory for the former team. The winning team was the better of the two, but had a very close look at defeat, two of their games having been won by one pin margins. Forrest of the Prairies was high man, 52. Team averages—Prairies, 44 3-5; Sherwoods, 42 13-25.

The Cote Brilliantes were far better than their opponents, the Vandeventers, of the Merchants' League, winning four of five games by good margins. Hudson of the Cote Brilliantes carried off the honors of the evening with an average of 54. Team averages—Cote Brilliantes, 44 1-25; Vandeventers, 39 6-25.

TOD SLOAN IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 26.—"Tod" Sloan arrived in this city last night from San Francisco. "I shall remain here two weeks," he said, "before I pack up for England. While here I will participate in the Grand American championship shooting contest at Interstate Park.

"It is my intention to make a personal application for a license to ride in England. I do not fear for the result. The English Jockey Club stewards are men of sterling character. They have always been fair to me in every respect. When they hear my side of the story I believe they will reconsider their former action and will give me a license.

"If a license is granted me, I will return to America about the middle of the season. It is my intention to make flying visits back and forth between America and England."

DATE IS NOT CONVENIENT.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 26.—When the attention of Capt. Finck of the Yale team was called to the Associated Press dispatch from Cambridge, England, stating that the track challenge of Yale and Harvard had been received, he said:

"I fear that it will be impossible for us to accept September as the month for the meet. A good many of the athletes of the Yale and Harvard teams will go to work almost as soon as they graduate. For instance, Capt. Hallowell of the Harvard team and myself have made plans to go into business in the middle of August. I hope that it will be possible for the English universities to finally accept July as the date of the meet."

ENTER NOW FOR THE POST-DISPATCH LEAGUE

The Post-Dispatch Public School Baseball League continues to grow. Not only are applications from the grammar schools coming in with commendable promptness, but outside institutes are asking representation. All public schools desiring to enter are advised to apply promptly. April 15 is the date of the closing of the entry list.

Watch the league grow.

Monday there were but five entries. Tuesday five additional ones were received, making a total of ten schools now represented, or a gain of 100 per cent in one day. As it now stands the league is composed of the following schools:

| | |
|---|---|
| Dozier, | Jefferson, |
| Carr Lane, | Ashland, |
| Arlington, | Stoddard, |
| Crow, | Pope, |
| Monroe, | Blow. |

If entries continue at the present rate the plan of subdividing the original league will have to be resorted to. Otherwise the number of games to be played would be too great.

Even with a ten-club league, if each team plays one game with every other team in the league 45 games will have to be played. If the ten teams were formed into two leagues of five clubs each, but 20 games would have to be played. That looks very much like an error, but figure it out for yourselves. The formula for determining the number of games to be played with a given number of teams is as follows: Find the square of the number of clubs. Subtract from the result the number of clubs in the league and divide the remainder by 2. In other words if there are 10 teams, you first multiply 10 by 10, with a result of 100. You then subtract from 100 the number 10, leaving 90. Dividing that by 2 will give you the answer, 45.

Suppose we divide the league into two organizations of five clubs each, and want to find out the number of games both will have to play. Applying the rule above, 5 multiplied by 5 makes 25. Subtract 5 and divide by 2. This gives 10 as a result or 20 for both teams.

From this illustration you will see that the smaller the number of teams in each league, the fewer games will have to be played.

Thus, at any time, there is a way of avoiding a cumbersome schedule. These details will be settled as soon as the high school definitely announces its position with reference to the management of the league.

The High School Athletic Association, through its president, Mr. Hamilton Daughaday, Jr., announced to the Post-Dispatch that it would consider the matter Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Daughaday said that all of the members were favorably inclined toward the movement and would do all in their power to help it along. He said they were not certain that a committee could be appointed to take the entire work of the organization on its shoulders, as they themselves were burdened with athletic work at this season, but, he thought, a committee would probably be appointed to act in an advisory and judicial capacity.

At the meeting it will be suggested that the High School tender the grammar school teams the use of its grounds for league games at such times when they were not in use, and especially for Saturday morning games. While one playing ground would be inadequate for the league, those of the high school would be admirably adapted to games between schools in the West End.

Mr. Daughaday discussed the question of umpires, which promises to be a vexing one, and said that as the High School boys who were members of the team would be occupied every Saturday they would not be available as umpires. However, some of them may be willing to act in morning games and the others may be settled by mutual agreement.

All questions must be held back until the makeup of the league is definitely known. It would, however, be good policy for a committee of the captains to meet at an early date and exchange views, if poshible, with the committee of the High School, which, it it believed, will be appointed.

In the meantime those schools who desire to become members of the league should send in their applications promptly.

JEFFRIES AND RUHLIN TALKING.

NEW YORK, March 26.—James J. Jeffries and Gus Ruhlin have about completed arrangements to fight for the championship of the world in San Francisco.

They have been offered a date, July 1, by J. J. Groom, manager and matchmaker of the National Sporting Club of San Francisco. The only hitch is on the question of the fighters' share of the receipts. The club has offered the men 60 per cent of the gross receipts for a 20 or 25 round contest.

"Billy" Madden, manager of Ruhlin, and acting for the Akron man, has demanded 70 per cent of the gross receipts and $500 for expenses to San Francisco.

The question of the date has been left open to Jeffries, who demanded concessions before he would agree to make the match. Jeffries has notified Madden that he will agree to the other terms asked by Ruhlin.

Madden and Ruhlin have been negotiating with Groom for three weeks and have been in the city during that time. They expect a definite reply to Madden's demand today.

WILL RIDE ON ENGLISH TRACKS.

NEW YORK, March 26.—A dispatch from London says:

The number of American jockeys in readiness for the racing season has greatly increased, notwithstanding the discipline to which some of them were subject last year. It is not expected that the stewards of the Jockey Club will refuse to license them, but it is probable that foul or rough riding will be severely dealt with. There are over 2000 horses in training at Newmarket, and as the grounds are overcrowded there is some talk of ruling out foreign stables, although the Jockey Club receives seven guineas for every horse using the training ground.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY BRIEFLY TOLD

The example of the American League in refusing to adopt the changes in the playing rules made by the National League will probably be followed by most of the amateur organizations. Illinois University team has given the new rules a trial in practice and found them very harmful. Coach Stagg of the Chicago University says Illinois is not the only university which will refuse to adopt the new rules. He says in regard to the fouling rule that not one college player in twenty can foul when he wants to.

President Robison announced Monday that Dan McGann, the Cardinals' first-baseman of 1900, had signed with the St. Louis team for the season. He will resume his position at first base.

Manager P. J. Donovan of the St. Louis Baseball team will be in St. Louis Tuesday night. Jesse Burkett, the great unsigned, will travel with him, and it is expected that he will forego his exclusiveness upon his arrival here and affix his signature to a Robison contract.

The baseball squads of the different schools, locally, are trying to force the weather merchant to come to terms by defying him. High School men were out Monday afternoon, but it was a little too chilly for protracted work.

St. Louis University tossed the ball about the campus, and the Smith Academy lads were at Pastime Park for a time. As soon as the weather moderates all of the schools will be daily represented on the diamond.

A baseball organization calling itself the Lucky Reds announces its organization for the season. It travels in the 16-year-old class, and claims it can go a long way. Information on the point may be had of Joe Theby, 4062 Easton avenue.

The Pittsburgs of St. Louis announce that they have found nine men who are willing to play baseball under that title, and defy all other teams, from Boston to Cahokia, provided the challengers are not more than 12 years old. If the curious will apply at 1503 Sarah street they will find out the details.

GOOD SCHOOL BOARD POLICY.

The ticket nominated by the Democratic convention for the Board of Education should receive the support of voters of all parties for two strong reasons. One is that the noimnees are men of excellent character and capacity, and the other is that in nominating two Republicans and two Democrats the local Democratic party has adopted a wise and beneficent policy with regard to the public schools. It takes the public school management out of politics.

The Republicans, nominating their candidates by primaries, named only the two Republicans on the Democratic ticket, but Republican voters should indorse the wise bipartisan policy of the Democrats by writing in the names of the Democratic nominees.

Politics should have nothing to do with the public school management. The opportunity is now offered to the voters of all parties to indorse the policy and thus compel the parties in future to respect it. If Republican voters will vote not only for the two Republicans appearing on both tickets, but will also vote for the two Democrats, writing in their names on the vacant places on the Republican ticket, the non-partisan school board will probably be perpetuated.

The figures on the cost of street reconstruction during the Ziegenhein Administration look much better than the streets. No doubt the money was expended—all that went into the treasury was—but where did it go?

SMOKE IN BUDA-PESTH

The smoke abatement law must not be weakened by the permission given in the law to show that in specific cases it is not possible to consume the smoke. The burden of proof rests, and heavily, upon persons whose furnaces emit the smoke.

In his Temple Israel address Prof. Ives declared that other cities using fuel as low grade as that of St. Louis had overcome the evil. The coal used in Buda-Pesth "is more heavily charged with moisture than is ours, yet the sky is visible and clear."

The experience of other cities is warrant for believing that in St. Louis the smoke nuisance can be entirely abated. Nothing short of that will satisfy the interests of the city.

THE USES OF DRUDGERY.

The Post-Dispatch thought for Monday was this from Longfellow: "The every-day cares and duties which men call drudgery are the weights and counterpoises of the clock of time, giving its pendulum a true vibration and its hands a regular motion."

Drudgery is work which one must do. Drudgery is a duty, not a delight, and therefore is burdensome.

There is nothing so essential to the best development of mind and heart as the compulsory performance of daily duties until their performance becomes a joy. The man who cannot stick to one thing long enough to work it out is the man who never was forced to do anything regularly, promptly and well.

No genius will ever compensate for the ability to work with regularity. "A place for everything and everything in its place." That is a good rule. Another is, "A time for everything and everything in its time." The best way to learn it—in fact, the only way, is to submit to routine drudgery until regular habits are established.

Possibly Gov. Odell's backbone may prove to be of presidential rigidity.

DANGER AT CROSSINGS.

The Post-Dispatch has suggested that when street cars meet at crossings they should slow down and be placed under perfect control. For want of a rule to this effect accidents are growing in frequence, the latest being the killing of Miss Conrad last Friday.

A letter from "Daily Passenger," in Monday's Post-Dispatch, calls attention to the extreme danger menacing passengers alighting from cars from the reckless speed at which cars coming in the opposite direction are permitted to pass cars that have stopped to discharge passengers.

The alighting passengers and other pedestrians waiting to cross the street cannot see the approaching car; and, as "Daily Passenger" says, "No matter how many times you caution men, women and children about the danger of crossing behind a car, they will forget it."

The street railway companies have been given the franchise of the streets with the implied understanding that they will take all possible precautions in the interest of human safety in running their cars. It is reasonable to expect them to slow up or stop their cars at crossings where passengers are alighting from other cars. Common humanity demands such a rule. Without it there will be continual sacrifice of human life.

THE LIBRARY MAINTENANCE FUND.

The statement of the Library Board in Sunday's Post-Dispatch places the conditions under which Mr. Carnegie's gift attaches to the Public Library plainly before the voters.

The two conditions are reasonable and proper: First, a free site for each building; second, an annual maintenance fund of not less than $150,000.

The second condition will be referred to the voters at the election, April 2.

The present maintenance fund of the library is $75,000 a year, set apart from the municipal revenue. It is equivalent to a tax of one-fifth of a mill on the dollar.

To obtain the additional $75,000 requires an increase of this to two-fifths of a mill.

Voters who wish to vote for the proposal should erase the word "no" from the ballot.

The importance of this vote should not be underestimated. If it is not carried it means that Mr. Carnegie's gift is declined.

No one who values the higher interests of the city can well have two minds on the subject. Every consideration of public expediency, honor and profit requires a rousing majority for the increased appropriation.

The World's Fair committee of the Illinois House is considering the bill for an appropriation of $250,000. The Governor favors the bill, and its prospects are thought to be good. The great exhibition is almost as important to Illinois as it is to Missouri. Neither state can afford any neglect of so rare an opportunity.

GOVERNING CONSIDERATION.

When the Public Safety Commitee reported on the personal qualifications of the candidates, it did not state the whole case between the regular party nominees.

Voters must bear in mind the issues of the municipal campaign. For four years St. Louis has been misgoverned. The property of the city has been dissipated by boodle jobs. Franchises worth millions have been granted for half a century by boodle combines. The payrolls have been packed with straw men and useless and incompetent political henchmen. Public work has been neglected and jobbery has governed the letting of contracts. Filth, darkness and humiliating municipal poverty have been the culminating evils of the Ziegenhein administration.

The April election has been anticipated with pleasure by citizens as an opportunity to get rid of an administration which has brought disaster, discomfort and reproach upon the city. It will be a failure, so far as the welfare of St. Louis is concerned, if it shall not result in the complete overthrow of the spoils machine which has dominated the municipal government. The rascals must be turned out and kept out. It is the paramount duty of the St. Louis voters to cast their votes to this end.

The overshadowing issue of this election is the cleansing of the City Hall and the reorganization of the municipal service on a basis of honesty and efficiency.

The test of a candidate's fitness is his will and capacity to substitute new and better methods and new and better men for the men and methods of the Ziegenhein administration. Has he the force of character, the will and capacity to do it?

Of Mr. Wells' acceptability in the matter of integrity and capacity there is no question. As the opposition candidate there can be no doubt that he will use his power to rid the City Hall of its present gang of spoilsmen and jobbers. That much would be great gain. Will he keep it clean? He is supported by the Democratic machine, but the nomination was thrust upon him. He has declared his freedom from any obligation which would hamper him in the performance of his duty, and has pledged himself to work for the public interest regardless of any other interest. Is Mr. Wells the kind of man who would put new rascals in place of the old, or succumb to the influence of jobbers and spoilsmen? Is there any reason to think so?

There is a difference in the case of Mr. Parker. He is personally acceptable but he sought his nomination in the primaries at the hands of the machine spoilsmen now in control of the municipal government. He identified himself with Mayor Ziegenhein in his campaign for the nomination and for election. In reply to questions regarding his relations with the City Hall gang he assures the people that he is under no obligation to any man or set of men, but that he cannot turn his back on men who are supporting him and who have treated him with good faith.

If Mr. Parker shall be elected mayor will he turn his back on the unworthy officeholders who are supporting him? Will he turn them out of office? Will he overthrow and break up the machine of his own party now in power? It is a gigantic task testing human courage and capacity to the utmost. Will Mr. Parker be equal to it?

These are pertinent questions with regard to the two candidates. St. Louis must have good government and good reputation for the next four years. Which of the candidates will give the better government and the better reputation to the city? In deciding this question voters must consider not only the personal qualifications of the men, but their associations, their surroundings and logical situations.

The Post-Dispatch seeks only the welfare of the city regardless of any party or faction. It considers and urges voters to consider nothing but the issue of good government. It wants the voters to understand thoroughly the considerations that should govern their action in the approaching election.

It is greatly to be regretted that political pressure has been brought to bear in any way for the appointment of World's Fair Commissioners. Every man in the commission should be a first-class worker, neglecting nothing likely to advance an enterprise of so much importance. Politics demoralizes the army, confuses public business and cannot keep out of international exhibitions.

Democrats grieve deeply when they hear of a new Republican gerrymander, and the Republican sorrow is profound whenever a Democratic gerrymander appears. Why can't both parties be fair and grieve less?

POST-DISPATCH SNAP SHOTS.

Mump snapshots for the family album are as swell as anything in photography this year.

The President will reach California in time to realize how much he has overdone the orange crop.

Everybody is throwing bouquets at Mr. Carnegie. The old gentleman is in danger of being smothered with flowers.

Napoleon considered it a great mistake that the French law allowed a man but one wife. Our policy with the Sultan of Sulu is Napoleonic.

George Washington Anderson of West Virginia, who confesses to having 16 living wives, has been sent to the poorhouse by No. 16. This is a discouraging record. It should be noted by every poor man who thinks of "marrying for a home."

It must be a supreme moment with the amateur photographer when the President dashes out at the White House gate on his high phaeton and behind his fiery black horses, himself handling the lines. Surely Vice-President Ted is not the only strenuous horseman.

Those Bible readers who have imagined the Scriptures difficult to understand will be surprised to read that Jack Cook, a boy of 14 years, answers from the pulpit "any question relating to the Bible." When the United States can grow this kind of boys who can doubt the future of the country?

EASY LESSONS IN FRENCH.

LESSON XIV.

Monsieur l'Editeur du Post-Dispatch.

Je vous sois tres reconnaissant de l'interet que vous porte pour exciter les citoyens de St. Louis pour apprendre la langue Francaise. Il sera de grand utilite pour le commerce et la hotelleries d'avoir quelqu'un qui puisse repondre aux questions des Francais qui vont abondirent dans le temps de l'Exposition.

Il est tres utile pour une personne qui veut apprendre la langue Francaise d'apprendre la punctuation des mots et prononcer distinctement chaque syllable. Une personne qui veut donner des lecons pour lire elle doit avoir un bon accent et prononcer les mots tres clairement. C'est le necessaire. La langue Francaise est tres compliquee avec ces verbes, mais elle donne une plus grande distinction pour le pluriel, le masculin et le feminin que la langue Americaine. La langue Francaise par sa richesse et sa beaute de parler elle a ete adoptee en affaires diplomatique par les nations d'Europe.

Je vous souhaite, Monsieur l'Editeur, grand succes dans votre enterprise.

Votre tres humble,
St. Louis. C. GUERRE.

Since lesson XIII the Post-Dispatch has received the letter which is here printed. The French writer of the letter expresses gratification at the fact that these lessons are being given, points out how useful they should be, calls attention to the difficulties and greatness of the French language, and wishes us success.

As it is more interesting to study an actual document than arbitrary phrases, we will take up the new words used in this letter, and ask students of these lessons to send in translations, the best of which will be published.

Je vous suis tres reconnaissant.
I am very grateful to you.

Reconnaissant is an adjective, meaning grateful or thankful. The feminine form is reconnaissante.

L'interet que vous porte.
(Linteray keh voo portay.)
The interest you entertain.

Porte is part of the verb porter, to bear, carry, entertain, etc. It is declined like montrer—see lesson IX, but in the perfect tense, used above, has the same ending in every person, thus:

J'ai porte, I have borne; tu as porte, you have borne; il as porte, he has borne; nous avons porte, you have borne; vous avez porte, you have borne; ils ont porte, they have borne.

Pour apprendre
(poor apprende.)
For to learn.

Apprendre is conjugated like comprendre. See lesson VI.

Il sera de grand utilite.
It will be of great use.

Sera is third person singular, future tense of etre, to be. See lesson IV. The future is thus conjugated:

Je serai, I shall be; tu seras, you will be; il sera, he will be; nous serons, we shall be; vous serez, you will be; ils seront, they will be.

Des mots
(day mo.)
Of the words.
Chaque syllable.
Every syllable.
Pour lire.
For to read.

Lire, to read, is thus conjugated: Je lis, I read; tu lis, you read; il lit, he reads; nous lisons, we read; vous lisez, you read; ils lisont, they read.

Elle doit avoir
(ell doa tavoar.)
She ought to have.

Doit is part of the verb devoir, to owe, to be obliged, to be necessary. It is thus conjugated:

Dois, I owe; dois, you owe; doit, he owes; devons, we owe; devez, you owe; doivent, they owe.

Mais elle donne
(may zell donnay.)
But she gives.

Note—La langue Francaise being feminine, the pronouns are feminine. Of course, in a correct English translation the above phrase will be, "But it gives."

Je vous souhaite. Souhaite is first person singular of the verb souhaiter, to wish, conjugated like montrer.

With these suggestions as to new words the student can no doubt translate the letter for himself, as several words are practically the same as in English.

Send in your translation and the errors will be pointed out in next lesson.

CO-EDUCATION AND LOVE

Marriage and Greek May Blend So Thinks M'Vay Sumner.

PROF. GRAHAM R. HARRIS of Atlanta thinks that co-education is a failure in producing the best results among young people of opposite sexes of marriageable age. Prof. Harris says that one result of co-educational institutions is marriage which would be better postponed for some years; that college work is interrupted by amusements that form part of the life of the place; that young women educated in co-educational institutions are not equal in scholarship to those graduated from institutions exclusively for them, and that the facts will show that the eastern colleges from which women are barred boast a higher standard of scholarship than western co-educational colleges.

In considering this much-mooted subject one must remember as essential a point which Prof. Harris firmly adheres to—that young people will be young people whether in or out of school. No sensible person would desire to isolate the youth of the country during its four most impressionable and formative years, nor would parents send their sons and daughters to institutions where there was no social life.

Sometimes this sort of thing is carried to excess, and then, like everything else so used, it is not good, but its regulation rests with the college authorities. In colleges for men exclusively the dances and receptions are given for their friends from abroad and for the belles of the college city. In girls' colleges the stated social functions and the "calling evenings" bring crowds of men from other colleges and from near-by towns. Vassar flirts with West Point, Wellesley and Harvard are good friends, Holyoke and Amherst go in for walking clubs and traverse the intervening hills with cheerful alacrity. Wherever you find a girls' school or college, ten to one within a stone's throw there is one for men.

All this is right and as it should be; anything else were unnatural. To say that it is not conducive to steady labor is like saying that one's dinner should be all meat—no entree, no dessert.

But is Dr. Harris quite consistent? He holds that experience has proven that co-education is a failure in producing the best results among young people of opposite sexes of a marriageable age. But what does he think these best results are?

The cult of the Madonna waxes stronger with each succeeding year. Do we not read articles like "Matrimony Is Woman's Goal," expressing sentiments such as "Say what anyone may, matrimony is the goal and maternity the patriotism of womankind?"

If all this is true, why should Dr. Harris rail at an institution which, according to his belief, would result in the summum bonum to women and the world? While probably admitting that marriage is a goodly and honorable estate, he says that it should be postponed for some years.

Alas, according to the "matrimony and mother" advocates, that is just what happens. They bewail the fact that college-bred women do not marry readily, and they find in this one fact their strongest grievance against the higher education of women. They say that college training unsexes them and makes them less womanly. And even a woman's debating club discussed at Delmonico's the other day whether the college girl is fitted for matrimony, and it was hotly argued that the old-fashioned education made better wives than the new.

No system providing educational food for the assimilation and nourishment of youth is free from imperfections, but a large part of the trouble which sometimes comes is due to its defective digestive apparatus.

POST-DISPATCH SERIES OF FAMOUS SHORT STORIES

A ROMANCE OF THE FOREST

BY C. H. AUGUR.

"Dark the halls and cold the feast—
Gone the bridesmaids, gone the priest."

THE 8 o'clock train on the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railroad takes you away from the beautiful town of Marquette on Lake Superior, climbs slowly up to the iron hills, passes through Negaunee, Ishpeming, Michigamme, rival cities of the "Northern Peninsular," and bowling along at 20 miles an hour brings you at noon to Sidnaw, whence a short branch road extends to Ontonagon; and, if you have to change cars, may heaven help you in your sorry plight, for you must wait four hours in a dreary place.

Two hundred feet from the track at Sidnaw station is a good-sized frame building with a hotel sign over the door, and a tin beer sign on either side of it. You get your dinner here, and after dinner you may sit on the hotel verandah and view the entire town and all of its inhabitants.

The town site comprises about half a forty (20 acres it would be called in other parts of the country) of cleared land. The hotel before alluded to is set back against the woods on one side of the tract, while the business portion of the place—five saloons, a store and a board walk—skirts the other edge. The railroad track passes through the center. There is no street. There are everywhere blackened tree stumps, and scattered blades of brown dry grass standing defiantly in a pepper-and-salt colored soil of muck and sand.

The main feature of Sidnaw is silence—the awful silence of the great surrounding forest; but it is broken at intervals by a dog fight or an explosion of oaths from the saloon district, where red-shirted, slouch-hatted woodsmen from the lumber camps play cards, just visible within the darkened doorways.

A line of freight cars stands on the track by the station, and now and then an engine, that has been sizzling and hissing all by itself among the trees, comes out and bumps these cars about in an aimless sort of way for a few moments, and then goes into retirement again.

You spend four hours in the contemplation of this scene; then that fool engine backs a lot of the freight cars and an old passenger coach down to the station, and you get aboard and go to Ontonagon, the terminus of the road; and it takes you two hours to go—just half as long as it took to "change cars."

I had changed cars at Sidnaw once, and I was on my way thither again, depressed and low spirited at the prospect before me, when, all suddenly, I was invited to attend a wedding while I waited; and once more the world looked rosy.

The prospective bride occupied the seat behind me in the car. I had not noticed her particularly until she bent forward, and, touching me on the arm, asked if I could inform her at what time our train was due in Sidnaw. Then I turned, and beheld a lady of some forty summers, wearing a flowery gown of white and green, with black lace mitts, and having beside her one of those big black 90-cent traveling bags that circulate so freely in the West.

The ready politeness with which I answered her question encouraged her to ask more, and, eventually, I found it necessary to sit sidewise that I might more conveniently keep up my end of the conversation, which shifted from one topic to another with wonderful rapidity, and, finally, merged into a romance of which she was the heroine, and to the completion of which I was cordially asked to lend my presence.

"It's 18 years," she said, "since this Mr. Prince left Kaukauny and came up here into the lumber camps. Him and me was young folks then, and kep' company together a spell; but when he asked me to marry him I said, 'No; I wouldn't marry nobody.' Then he went away, and I never heard of him till three years ago he wrote, and said somebody 'd told him I was single, and he was waitin' for me. Wouldn't never marry any other woman, he said, nohow, and he hoped I'd take him into consideration again.

"That letter made me feel kind o' queer—to think he'd been so faithful all these years. I never believed he set so much store by me as all that. I was a good mind to write him a favorable letter right then and there; but when it come right to the point I couldn't make up my mind to do it, so I just wrote him I wanted a year more to think about it.

"Well, I never heard a word from him no more than's if he was dead till the year was up; then he wrote again, and said he was still waitin'.

"I put him off till Christmas, then till spring; and so it's been a-goin' up to two weeks ago, when it come over me all to once that I wasn't treatin' the man right. He'd been dreadful long-sufferin' and patient, and deserved his reward, and I set down and wrote him I'd have him.

"He wanted to come down to Kaukauny after me; but I wouldn't have it. I told him to save his money, and I'd come up. So we fixed it that way, and today the weddin' comes off, and I want you to be there. Mr. Prince's got a minister from Ontonagon, and he's invited a few of his friends to witness the ceremony, and I guess it'll be a pleasant, sociable little gatherin'. Anyhow, it'll be better than waitin' for the train, with nothing to do."

I agreed with the lady, and eagerly accepted her invitation. I had a curiosity to behold this faithful old lover who had waited 18 years—waited with infinite patience until the girl he loved had lost all of the attractions of youth, and yet loved on, and now was about to see his fond dreams realized. The story seemed rather pathetic to me, although its ludicrous side was very apparent, also.

Of the half a dozen passengers in the car, we were the only persons to alight when the train reached Sidnaw. I helped my companion with her big valise, and she, carrying a large strawboard box and a parcel tied in a newspaper, followed me out of the car.

Two or three woodsmen, standing about the station, gazed idly at us as we stood undetermined which way to go. And one lean, sandy-whiskered man, who had been sitting on the platform at the further end, jabbing his knife into the boards, slowly arose and advanced.

She was eying him.

"Is this Miss Birtchet?" he asked with a sheepish smile.

"That's my name," she answered; "Artemisia Birtchet; and I must say, Abe Prince, that you seem dreadful glad to see me."

He held out his hand; but she couldn't take it on account of the parcels, and he scratched his head with it.

"This ain't Wednesday," he suggested, after an interval of thought.

"I know it ain't," she answered; "and it ain't Tuesday or Monday; but it's Thursday, Aug. 13, and I was to come the 13th if I remember rightly, and I think I do."

He shifted his gaze to me and then looked at her again.

"By gosh!" he said, in a hollow voice; 'I've lost my reckonin', somehow. I thought the 13th was a Wednesday, and I had that minister here yesterday."

"Well, where is he now?" asked Miss Birtchet, in a quick, harsh voice.

"He went back. I kinder thought you might have changed your mind again, and"—he struck himself on the leg—"I don't see," he said, "how the devil I got off on that date. Are you sure you ain't made no mistake, Artemisia?"

"I'm sure I have made a mistake," answered Miss Birtchet, with withering sarcasm. "I've made the mistake of comin' 'way up here in the woods to marry a pesky fool; but, thank heavens, I ain't done it. If you'll be so kind and obligin' as to hold that bag a minit longer," she continued, turning to me, "I'll just step in here, and buy a ticket for Kaukauny."

The down train was approaching, and when Miss Birtchet appeared with her ticket I followed her into the railroad car.

"Aren't you a litle hasty?" I asked.

"Little nothin'!" she snapped, and I saw that it would be of no use to argue with her. I left the valise and bade her good-by.

When the train was gone I went over to the hotel to get my dinner. Mr. Prince was sitting on the verandah, with his legs crossed and his thumbs under his supenders. His aspect was grave.

"That was a rather bad mistake of yours," I ventured to remark.

"It's just as well," he answered; "I knew 't was just as well the minit I set eyes on her."

The Public Safety Committee.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

There is one feature in the recommendations of the public safety committee published in the Post-Dispatch of yesterday which deserves special attention. The committee finds that in 14 out of the 28 wards none of the nominations for the House of Delegates are worthy of recommendation. What an astonishing fact this is to publish to the world at a time when we are preparing for the World's Fair celebration—that one-half of the members of the House of Delegates for the next two years will be filled by men who are unworthy of the confidence of the public! Is this the outcome of the general public recognition of the importance of this election, the stirring sermons by our preachers and the activity of our public-spirited citizens of both parties in the effort to elevate our municipal conditions?

It is idle to make any party capital out of the fact that more Republicans than Democrats are recommended among the 14.

It was for the purpose of giving the public a remedy in all the wards that the importance of early nominations was insisted upon. There is this to be said on behalf of the Democratic nominations: Bad as they are in some of the wards, that they were made in time for the people to make independent nominations. The Republican nominations were made so late that this report of the public safety committee, I am informed, could not be prepared before the closing of the nominations.

But my object in writing you this communication is not only to emphasize this unfortunate condition of things, but to ask you whether there is any remedy. Cannot the citizens in the different wards still vote for other candidates, even without official nominations, or are they helpless in the matter. CITIZEN.

Labels on Bread.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

A complaint is made by "One of the 400,000" of this city regarding the union label upon bread. I heartily agree with him. If the bakers would use a pan with raised lettering on same, so it would leave the impression on the baked bread, the label could be dispensed with and still signify union-made bread. It would also prevent any non-union bakers from obtaining the labels and applying them when they do not employ union labor, which is possible.

Mr. A. B. Greene's Record.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In your issue of Sunday I notice an article on my candidacy for the Board of Education, over the signature of Mr. Joseph Franklin, whose kindly interest in my behalf I appreciate beyond expression as coming from a man of such prominence and ever alert in public matters, but as he unconsciously made a mistake in the statement pertaining to free text books, and which may be criticised, I desire to correct the same. Unfortunately my efforts in behalf of free books in all grades have not been fully successful. Other members, perhaps not so fully in touch with the public schools, have not been able to see the need from my point of view.

When the Board of Education eliminated free books from the four lower grades of our schools I fought against the movement and my resolution to replace the rule and give free books in these grades without requiring any parent to practically make an affidavit that he was a pauper and could not buy books for his children, was not even seconded. To my effort three months later, backed by public sentiment as expressed through the press and by organizations of the city, the board yielded and gave the people free books in the four lower grades. Since then, I appealed to the board to extend the system and include all grades, thus placing St. Louis in the van of other progressive cities of our country, giving our children absolutely free education; this latter effort, made recently, is held up on the plea of no funds to meet the expense—an argument I am prepared to refute.

MAUDE ADAMS' "L'AIGLON"

AS COMPARED WITH BERNHARDT'S

IS AS MAY TO DECEMBER

MISS MAUDE ADAMS.

At last we know "L'Aiglon."

By we, I mean St. Louisans who speak American, and American only; and I take it this comprises the great majority which makes up the theater-going public.

We watched Bernhardt's pantomime, heard her emit harsh, strident tones, which to us meant naught, and we understood nothing. Last night at the Olympic we saw and heard Maude Adams, and "L'Aiglon" is now to us an open book.

Those who know both languages and profess to be critics say that as an actress Maude Adams is not to be classed with Bernhardt. It may be; but in so far as "L'Aiglon" is concerned Maude Adams is good enough for me.

"L'Aiglon" is not a drama. It is but a series of incidents in the life of a youth, over-sensitive, who feels within himself great pride at being the son of an illustrious father, and morbid disappointment and discontent at the position into which circumstances and his own weak nature have forced him. The portrayal of the boy's part is but an unusually extended piece of character work.

In this characterization Maude Adams and Mme. Bernhardt are no more alike than May and December. Both months are made up of day and night and there the similarity ceases. Both L'Aiglons contain light and somber moments and there the similarity ceases. The differences are almost too numerous to mention.

Taking the historical fact that Napoleon's son, at the time the incidents are shown, was 19 and 20, as a line of demarcation. Bernhardt's L'Aiglon was considerably above it, while Miss Adams' eaglet was several years below it. This is certainly quite a distance apart to place the two characters, but the distance is maintained throughout every phase of the characterization.

There were times in Mme. Bernhardt's production that she presented a character which appeared strong enough to have taken the lead, and if opportunity had offered, to rule. Miss Adams' eaglet is always the effeminate, but ambitious boy, who never could have been anything other than what he was. When the Bernhardt L'Aiglon coaxed his imperial grandfather into letting him return to France you were surprised. When Maude Adams' eaglet coaxed him you would have been surprised had the wish not been granted. She could have coaxed the same thing, had it been in their power to grant it, from every man and woman in the audience.

The weakest spot in Miss Adams' work is in the scene on Wagram battlefield. But from her work up to that time no one was surprised. She had created a character that could not have been stronger. Up to the time Flambeau died she was superb. The tenderness and agony of a youth who saw death for the first time were well depicted, but the terror which followed was not well sustained, and the appearance of the soldiers caused relief, not because it relaxed the tension, but because it relieved the tediousness.

No better idea of the character created by Miss Adams is to be obtained than from the words of the dying youth when three different women tell him that they love him.

"You love me as women love a frail and petted child," is the reply.

That is what Miss Adams has made of "L'Aiglon."

Miss Adams and Bernhardt die much alike. It is a typical stage death. I wonder will actresses ever learn how to die?

During the Bernhardt engagement a reporter stopped at my desk and said:

"This morning I saw a woman die of consumption at the hospital, and just now I saw Bernhardt's Camille die at the Olympic. Camille didn't die right."

Actresses ought to visit the hospitals..

Miss Adams' support was reasonably strong. J. H. Gilmour's Flambeau was quite in keeping with the American idea of a soldier of the empire in his old age. His figure was striking and his comedy grew upon you. He died well. Edwin Arden was something of a surprise as Metternich. I didn't think he could do it so well. His enunciation was somewhat indistinct, but it seemed to me that otherwise he was all that could have been desired. Percy Lyndal was a sympathetic Prokesh.

The women in the company are not particularly strong. Two of them are St. Louis girls, Sara Perry and Rose Flynn. Miss Perry really does the most satisfactory work of any of the women in the cast.

I was somewhat disappointed in the production from a scenic standpoint. I had expected something more elaborate of Mr. Frohman. Except that it is cleaner the scenery is not as handsome as that shown us by Mr. Grau and the light effects were much inferior. This production is an improvement over the other in that, by a combination of scenes, the play is shortened half an hour.

The house last night was full. The audience was quite as representative and considerably larger than on Bernhardt's opening night, but it came in just as late. Those who arrived after Miss Adams appeared on the stage were obliged to wait in the rear until the curtain fell. If they were stopped the minute the curtain rose it would be better. To be walked over just when you are trying to get the run of a play is most annoying.

The funny story of the wonderful "Isle of Champagne," where the natural order of beverages was reversed and wine flowed in the brooks and rivers, while water sold at the regulation "pints $2.50, and quarts $4," is being delightfully and tunefully told by the Castle Square Company at Music Hall this week. More real enjoyment for all classes of auditors is to be had from this production than from any comic opera this excellent company has placed on view this season.

"Isle of Champagne" is not a classic like some of the Gilbert & Sullivan compositions we have seen done most sumptuously this season at Music Hall, but it is really funny with the kind of fun that everybody can appreciate. William Furst, Alfred Byrne and Louis Harrison wrote the "Isle" for the eccentricities of Thomas Q. Seabrooke, and usually an opera made to measure fits only the original. Not so with the "Isle," especially when Frank Moulan is in the cast. Nothing funnier has been done by Mr. Moulan this season than his King Pommery, Sec., and patrons of the Castle Square Company, who have enjoyed his fine comedy many times, know what this praise means. The role fits him almost as well as it ever fitted Mr. Seabrooke, and he puts a whole lot of new comedy into it. Moulan is a past-master at the art of make-up, and it is only necessary to look at him to laugh. He has funny ways, a funny face, and funny legs. So completely does his personality dominate his auditors that they laugh even when he cracks old jokes. Mr. Moulan has a clever scene with himself and a case of the "jimmies" which is artistically done though unreasonably prolonged. The same criticism may be made of the duet [illegible] Moulan. It could be done more entertainingly in shorter time. But in the tomb scene, Moulan is unapproachable. No one could get more fun out of Joe Miller's joke book than he, and the audience really enjoys the stale conundrums as he reads them.

Blanche Chapman, as the enterprising Abigail Peck from New Bedford, Mass., who becomes King Pommery Sec's. Queen, carries the comedy honors with Moulan. Miss Chapman has demonstrated at Music Hall frequently this year that she is a character comedienne of ability, and her interpretation of the Queen is as funny in its way as Moulan's King and an excellent foil for his eccentricities. She does a funny dance with him in the first act that won an encore.

Edwin A. Clarke has the role of Apollinaris Frappe, the prime minister, and gets considerable fun out of the constitution which he brings forward on all occasions to curb the pleasure-seeking tendencies of his King and, incidentally, to open his own way to the throne. Joseph Sheehan sparkles musically as Prince Kissengen, while too little is seen of William Pruette as Sammy Binnacle. Arthur Wooley and Charles W. Meyer have some funny business as the King's standing army, whose sole occupation is to serve their master with wine and to help him drink what he cannot down. Maude Lillian Berri has only a few chances to distinguish herself vocally as Priscilla, and, of course, accepts them. In the second and third acts she wears a costume that becomes her exceedingly well. Gertrude Quinlan makes a chic Diana, in which she does some of the best work of her career, and presents a charming picture in the troubadour costume. The mountings of "Isle" in this production have never been surpassed.

At the Columbia Lew Hawkins makes merry with some good new songs and one good old one, and with an odd conceit in the way of a monologue, describing his visit to McGinty at the bottom of the sea. Prince Satsuma, Japanese equilibrist, proves that the feet can be made as dexterous as the hands, and almost as prehensile as a monkey's tail. The three Leon Sisters do a very clever and novel gymnastic act. Mark Sullivan, mimetic comedian, seemed ill at ease when he first came on, but he warmed up and carried the house with him by some striking imitations of popular actors. Josephine Gassman and her perennial pickaninnies are on hand with a number of coon songs. Hacker and Lester are truly what they advertise themselves—acrobatic wheelmen.

As soon as Eugene O'Rourke, Nellie Elting and the stuttering negro porter get their sketch polished up a bit they will have one on the brightest of all the many hotel mix-ups and cases of mistaken identity in the business. Will H. Murphy and Minnie Allen present a highly laughable sketch, "The Bifurcated Girl." This week's bill is not the best the Columbia ever had, but it affords much entertainment.

Dick Lightner, the advertising agent of the Olympic and Century Theaters, will have a benefit one week from Saturday night at the Century. The attraction will be "The Still Alarm."

The advance sale of seats for the Marine Band concert, which will take place at the Coliseum Friday night under the auspices of the First Regiment, N. G. M., is large, and indicates a big audience. The music will be the finest heard in St. Louis this season.

A telegram from San Francisco this morning announces that Mme. Sembrich may never sing in public again. Her physicians have advised the famous operatic soprano to cancel all her engagements and to retire to her home in Dresden for a rest. She leaves tomorrow for Europe. Manager Graff has disbanded the company, and the entire organization will return to New York.

MILES SPOKE TO CUBANS.

He Now Thinks They Will Yield to the Platt Amendment.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Lieutenant-General Nelson A. Miles, who has returned from Cuba, told Secretary Root that, in his opinion, the Cubans would accept the Platt amendment. He was particularly impressed with the fine condition of the batteries in the forts around Havana.

On Thursday last, by special request, Gen. Miles attended a session of the Cuban convention and addressed the delegates, saying, in part:

"I have no reason to doubt that the attitude of our government toward the people of other countries who have been struggling for liberty will continue to be maintained, and that the hope of Washington, who believed that the United States had framed a constitution so liberal and so just that, if administered with wisdom and integrity, it would in time be commended to the peoples of other countries then strangers to it, still animates the heart of the American peopel toward the infant republic of Cuba.

"I trust that you will have patience in the consideration of the important subjects now before you and that you will be directed in a course that may promote the business interests of yourselves and your posterity. We all know that the strongest bond and guaranty that you can give to the people and government of the United States is the gratitude that you have manifested in the past, and earnest and lasting friendship toward the government of the United States in the future."

Gained 28 Pounds in Four Months.

Miss Carson's experience with DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY is similar to that of thousands from whom we hear daily, praising the merits of the World's Famous Medicine.

847 Columbus Ave., New York.

Gentlemen:—During the past summer I became very much run down in health, and lost about thirty pounds. I suffered untold agony. DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY was recommended to me by a friend, who said it saved her life. I had my doubts about it, but thought I would try it. I am now on my fourth bottle, and I must say that it has done me more good than all other medicines, and I tried several. I had a cough, the doctor said my lungs were affected, I had indigestion, backache and headache, and was greatly troubled with painful menstruation. I also had numbness in my limbs. As soon as I began to take your MALT WHISKEY I felt better, until now my cough has left me, my lungs are perfectly sound, I have no more headache or backache, and I don't know what pain is. I can eat anything and it agrees with me. I weigh thirty-eight pounds more than I did when I started to take your WHISKEY a few months ago. I am convinced all my troubles came from impoverished blood and poor circulation. I can't say enough in praise of your excellent WHISKEY. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth. Every woman should know about it. I recommend it to any one who suffers as I did, as I think it is a godsend to women. Please send me your book of information.

Gratefully,
CLARA M. CARSON.

McCRAY

A Timely Topic

Our stock of Refrigerators for this season is now in, and housekeepers are invited to examine them. NOW is the time to make your arrangements for a new ice box. Remember the low price plea is never made to induce a purchaser to buy a McCRAY REFRIGERATOR.

We know our ice boxes will cost you less in the end than any other make. Why? Because what you "save" in the purchase of the ordinary zinc-lined or "enameled" (painted) box is wasted many times over in paying for more ice than would be required in a McCRAY. We know our box gives "better results with less ice"—it is the verdict in every family now using a McCRAY. Cold, dry air—no odors—no mold. PERFECT CIRCULATION AND INSULATION. Our catalogue No. 36 of Family Refrigerators explains the whole business. TAKE A LOOK AT THE GOODS.

A case of great importance throughout the state, as franchise taxation has been absorbing the minds of the Missouri legislators, is the case of the collector of Jackson County against the Western Union Telegraph Co., to collect taxes on the franchise of the company under the law of 1899.

Judge Henry of the Jackson Circuit Court held that a franchise could not be taxed, as it was an agency of the Federal government, hence the appeal to the supreme court by the county collector.

At the request of Attorney General Crow and Attorney Alex. Newton of Kansas City, who represents the Western Union Co., the case was advanced on the court docket and will be decided at the April term.

Will Oppose New School Bill.

Roman Catholic voters of Centerville Station Township held a meeting Sunday afternoon to discuss the new school bill proposed by State Superintendent Bayliss, which advocates the centralizing of schools and the establishment of a transportation system by means of which children living at a distance from school may be taken there by public conveyances. The voters fear that the passage of this bill will raise their school taxes, and for this reason intend to oppose it because it will be of no value to them, as their children attend the parochial schools.

WANT WELL PAVED ROADS.

Citizens of Central Ask for Brick or Asphalt Highways.

Citizens of Central St. Louis County, have petitioned the County Court at Clayton to improve the nine rock roads entering the city by paving them with vitrified brick or granite for a distance of one mile from the city limits.

It is suggested in the petition that the additional tax of 15 cents on the $100, allowed under one of the constitutional amendments adopted in 1900, be devoted to these permanent improvements, and that the money annually spent for repairs on the rock roads be applied to extending the system further into the county.

It is estimated that the additional tax would yield $46,000 a year, and that by the time of the World's Fair all nine roads would be improved in the manner described.

First Marriage In a Year.

After a dearth of marriages for 18 months the banns of Miss Katie Touchette and Antoine Reinhardt were published in the Centerville Station Catholic Church Sunday by the Rev. Father T. J. Meifuss.

More than a year ago Father Meifuss began a crusade against mixed marriages.

For several succeeding Sundays he gave extended talks on the subject, quoting from religious books and census statistics. He made the sacrament of matrimony appear in such a serious light that no marriage has taken place in his church since.

Shortly before Lent he commented on this fact, stating that it was not his idea to condemn marriage altogether, but rather to encourage it under the right conditions. The young couple mentioned will be the first to break the deadlock, but it is thought that many will follow in their footsteps.

Farewell to Judge Wilfley.

A farewell dinner will be tendered tonight at the Southern Hotel to Hon. L. R. Wilfley, one of the federal judges recently appointed for the Philippine Islands, who is expected to sail from San Francisco, with the other judges appointed for the Philippines, about April 10. The federal judges both of the United States Court of Appeals and the District Court will be present as guests, Judge E. B. Adams of the District Court acting as toastmaster. The chief guest of the evening, Mr. Wilfley, is expected to deliver the principal speech and there will be other talks by Judge Thayer, Judge Sanborn, Joseph Robertson of Mexico, Isaac Lionberger and others. Over 100 are expected to be present, composing the leading members of the bar and the laity friends of the departing guest.

Bride Was Only 15.

Valentine Iestoeke and Irene Ferguson applied for a marriage license at East St. Louis Monday afternoon. After repeated questions had been put Miss Ferguson finally admitted that she was only 15 years old, and the groom lacked a few months of being 21.

Miss Ferguson's father was summoned and gave his consent to the marriage, which was performed by Judge John J. Driscoll. The groom had previously furnished a home.

WHEAT CLOSED WEAK

IN SPITE OF A CORN RALLY WHEAT DECLINED.

CORN SHOWED RALLIES

Early Declines Were Overcome and Coarse Grain Futures Advanced, Closing With Mixed Net Changes.

Grain futures grew stronger as the session progressed, the corn position showed marked rallies, stimulated by a decidedly improved demand in all quarters.

Helped by the advance in the coarse grain, the wheat futures grew steadier, a good part of the early decline being overcome and crop positions ranging near to the opening prices.

The bulls for the moment seemed to have the best of the situation, but later there was scattered profit-taking and small slumps followed, but these were of small importance, futures finally closing strong.

Wheat and flour clearances today were 314,000 bu; corn, 256,647 bu, and oats, 2638 bu.

May wheat closed ⅝c down and July ¼c below the previous close. May corn closed 1-16c down and July 1-16c up. May oats closed ⅛c down.

Wheat in the last five minutes of the session showed weakness, reaching the low point of the day as the bell tapped. In sympathy with wheat, May corn sold off a fraction, closed a shade down for the day, but yet well over the low point, which was made in the early part of the session. July corn on the contrary closed a shade advanced for the day and very little below the high point of the session.

There was no trade in May oats, the close being nominal.

Wheat traders did not give good support to the market in the part of today's session. As a result the futures worked off several fractions without a rally occurring. The early market was dull and narrow and the volume of business light, sentiment being somewhat mixed and the news of the day giving little encouragement to either grain faction.

Liverpool closed ⅛d down for the day.

Locally May wheat opened at 73⅞@74c and then sold at 73⅞c, 73⅝@73⅞c and at 73⅝c. July sold at 73c and then at 72⅝c.

The total public and private elevator stock of wheat at Chicago at present is 17,139,000 bu.

Receipts of wheat at St. Louis today were 34,756 bu, compared with 21,129 bu same date last year. Of these 1225 sacks and 34 cars were local, compared with 724 sacks and 25 cars same date last year.

Receipts of wheat at Minneapolis and Duluth today were 368 cars, as compared with 583 cars same date last year.

Receipts of wheat at primary points today were 625,977 bu, as compared with 497,000 bu same date last year.

Shipments 378,944 bu, compared with 301,000 bu same date last year.

Corn Futures Were Strong.

Corn showed some early weakness, but on the whole held quite well during the day's early session. The lower range in wheat was responsible for the early setbacks in the coarse grain, but on the weak spots there was enough support felt to put the market up again.

May corn opened at 40⅜@40½c, ⅛c below the previous close. The future then sold at 40¼c, 40⅞@40¼c, 40⅜c, 40¼@40⅜c, 40¼c, 40¼@40½c and again at 40¼c. July sold at 40⅞c, 40¾c, 40⅝@40¾c and at 40⅞c again.

Total private and public stocks of corn at Chicago at present are 11,217,000 bu.

Receipts of corn at St. Louis today were 38,490 bu, compared with 128,800 bu same date last year. Of these 1956 sacks and 26 cars were local, compared with 91 cars same date last year.

Receipts of corn at primary points today were 397,289 bu, as compared with 849,000 bu same date last year.

Shipments, 358,271 bu, compared with 478,000 bu same date last year.

After small setbacks the corn market grew very strong, all futures advancing rapidly and making new high point records.

May corn advanced from 40¼c to 40⅜@40½c, and July went up from 40⅝@40¾c to 41c.

The strength in corn was partially communicated to wheat and all around the market did better.

Oats Futures Were Quiet.

May oats were figured as nominally worth 26c, but till late in the day neither bid nor offer prices were recorded for this cereal.

Receipts of oats at St. Louis today were 37,200 bu, compared with 36,000 bu same date last year. Of these 18 cars were local, compared with 30 cars same date last year.

Produce Market by Telegraph.

CHICAGO, March 26.—The grain and provisions markets were dull the fore part of today's session. May wheat opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 75¼c to 75⅜c and sold off to 75⅛@75¼c on lack of outside interest in the market. There was scarcely any business. The crowd was bearish, but kept a careful eye on corn, to which pit many of the wheat traders deserted yesterday. Local receipts were 127 cars, 6 of contract grade, while Minneapolis and Duluth reported 368 cars, against 397 last week and 482 a year ago. Liverpool reflected the decline here yesterday.

May later rallied to 75⅜c, in sympathy with corn, but closed easy, ⅛@¼c lower, at 75½@75⅝c.

There was a fairly heavy trade in corn at the opening, May selling ⅛c to ⅛@¼c lower, at 42⅛c to 42¼@42⅜c. Commission house selling sent the market to 42c. The market steadied on the unsettled weather and reacted to 42¼@42⅜c, but trade became dull. Apparently there was a disposition to take profits, but the market did not act as if it would hold against much pressure. Receipts were 284 cars.

Shorts attempted to cover later and as offerings were scarce the price was bid up to 42⅝c. Realizing sales caused a reaction and the close was easy, May ⅛@¼c lower, at 42⅛@42¼c.

Oats were dull and featureless. May opened a shade lower at 25@25⅛c and sold to 24⅞@25c, in sympathy with corn. Receipts were 327 cars.

Provisions opened firm on fewer hogs than expected and higher prices at the yards. Following this the tone was a shade easier, but prices changed little. May pork opened 10c higher at $15.80 and sold to $15.75; May lard opened 2½@5c higher at $8.02½@8.05 and May ribs 2½c improved at $8, selling early at $7.95.

AMERICANS IN MEXICAN JAILS

Fifty-Two Railway Men Wrongfully Held In the Prisons of the Diaz Dominion.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 26.—Edward King, an American, who has been in the railroad service in Mexico, is in Topeka today on his way to Washington, where he will try to secure government aid in releasing the 52 American railroad men who are in Mexican prisons. Mr. King says that the men are unjustly imprisoned, and that they are kept in jail without being given a hearing. King himself is out on parole, and must be back in the City of Mexico by April 15 to stand trial. When Mr. King reaches Washington he will call on Chester I. Long and Charles Curtis, Kansas Congressmen, and enlist their aid in bringing the matter to the attention of the proper officials. At the same time he will endeavor to interest the national organizations of the railway employes' associations in aiding the unjustly imprisoned men.

ROOT'S TRIP TO MANILA.

The Secretary of War Will Be Accompanied by Gen. Corbin.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—At the present time there seems no doubt that Gen. Corbin will make the trip to the Philippines, although Mr. Root's mind is not yet fully made up, nor can it be until he knows the condition of the public business after he reaches San Francisco and feels that there is not likely to be any unusual demand on him in the war department to make the long trip to the Philippines and return inadvisable.

The trip would keep Secretary Root and Gen. Corbin away from Washington fully three months and possibly four. Leaving San Francisco the middle of May on the fastest transport available, they could arrive in Manila before June 7 or 8. It is their purpose to stay at least a month in the Philippines, so that they could not start for home before the first or second week in July, which would land them in San Francisco in August.

The principal object of the trip is to give Secretary Root and Gen. Corbin an opportunity to study the military situation in the Philippines at close range, so that they will be better prepared to deal with the problems of military management and administration in the archipelago in the future developed by the rapidly changing conditions.

The adjutant-general keenly realizes the necessity of an intimate acquaintance with the topography and other physical features of the disturbed districts in the archipelago, so that he will be prepared to grasp quickly from the skeletonized cable reports that reach his office the operations of the troops in the field and the meaning of the maneuvers and approximately what result has been attained by the rout or capture of the marauding bands.

The important matter of camp and garrison sanitation will be carefully looked into as will also the ration best suited to Americans suddenly transferred to the tropics. The subject of supply and transport will also be rigidly investigated, with the view of securing the best possible service at a minimum of cost.

STRUCK BY TRAIN; KILLED A COW

Engine Threw a Bull Against William Watlington.

NEITHER WAS SERIOUSLY HURT

BUT WILLIAM'S GUN WENT OFF AND KILLED TWO COWS.

The Railroad Will Not Pay Him, But He Was Obliged to Reimburse the Owner of the Kine for Their Death.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 26.—A suit against the Seaboard Airline Railway has developed one of the most novel accidents known to the annals of jurisprudence.

A vestibuled passenger train from Atlanta was bowling along on a down grade at the rate of 50 miles an hour. William Watlington, on his way to a wild turkey blind, had his shotgun on his shoulder. On reaching the railroad track, which was on an embankment about 10 feet high at this place, Watlington heard the train in the distance. He stopped on the side of the track about 50 feet away to view the train as it swept by.

Along the embankment, on both sides of the track, are the usual ditches, which were filled with water. A few seconds before the train passed cattle commenced to straggle across the track to the side on which Watlington was standing. The bovines all got safely across except one Jersey bull, which was caught on the cowcatcher and hurled away with great velocity.

As misfortune and luck both would have it the animal struck Watlington about midships, knocked him into the ditch and landed on top of him. The bull struggled, but could not get up and the water was drowning man and beast. The engineer stopped the train and hurried back in time to pull Watlington and the bovine out of the ditch.

Striking Watlington and knocking him into the water saved the life of the bull and the water prevented the blow by the bull from killing Watlington. Thus far no damage had been discovered. But an examination showed that when the bull struck Watlington the shock knocked his gun some distance away and when it struck the ground it was discharged and killed one of the cows and wounded another so badly that it had to be killed. The gun was not injured.

On these facts Judge Brown in the Superior Court here today held that the railroad company was not liable in damages to Watlington, but the owner of the cows has sued Watlington and recovered $100 in full of damages for their killing.

Since all this happened Watlington has had a great piece of good luck. He has been working for H. N. Snow at High Point in the furniture business. The latter, who is getting old and tired of the business, retired and gave the whole plant and business, worth $20,000, to Mr. Watlington, who was of no kin to him, but simply a faithful employe.

THIS BOY TURNED PIRATE

Eleven-Year-Old Lad Stole a Waiting Tug Boat and Put Out for the Open Sea.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NORFOLK, Va., March 26.—Capt. John Twohy, who owns a fleet of tugs, came from Lambert's Point on the smallest of the lot, the tug Fannie. The Fannie was moored alongside of her pier here and everybody aboard left.

Then John Bondurant, 11 years old, scion of a prominent Norfolk family, hove in sight. He boarded the tug, added coal to the dying fire, started the engine, took the wheel and, acting engineer, fireman and pilot, steamed toward Hampton Roads and the open sea. The crew returned and, missing the Fannie, telegraphed to Lambert's Point, where the ocean tug E. V. McCauley put out and intercepted the Fannie and towed her back to Norfolk.

TABLET FOR CONSUL RAMSDEN

Navy Department Will Mark the Home of Him Who Aided Hobson's Little Band.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The handsome bronze tablet, to be set up by the navy department at Santiago, in memory of the late Frederick Woolaston Ramsden, has just been finished at the Washington navy yard and is now ready for shipment. As consul-general of Great Britain, Mr. Ramsden rendered conspicuous aid to Hobson and his little band of heroes, by way of alleviating their sufferings during imprisonment. This work, together with other deeds of unselfish devotion, told upon Mr. Ramsden's health and caused his early death.

The tablet, which is chaste and simple, was designed by Mr. Robert C. Skerrett of the navy department, and bears the following inscription:

> Here lived during the Spanish-American war Frederick W. Ramsden, consul-general of Great Britain. He died at Jamaica, Aug. 10, 1898.
>
> The navy department of the United States in token of his humanity to American naval prisoners, erects this tablet to his memory.

Gen. Wood, to whom the tablet will be shipped, will attend to the work of having it fixed to the house in the suburbs of Santiago occupied by the lamented Ramsden. A replica is to be kept at the naval academy in Annapolis.

THE HARTFORD IS HOME AGAIN

For the First Time Since 1875, Farragut's Old Flagship Is in New York Harbor.

NEW YORK, March 26.—After an absence from the waters of 26 years, the famous old warship Hartford is again at the Brooklyn navy yard. It was in 1875 that Admiral Farragut's old flagship was last in this port. The Hartford was laid up for years at the Mare Island navy yard, San Francisco, until it was decided to remodel her and fit her out for service as a training ship. The vessel is now on a training cruise, with a crew of 480 men and boys, most of them apprentices. She will remain at the Brooklyn yard for a week undergoing some repairs and then will resume her cruise.

The Hartford sailed from San Francisco about a year ago. Her cruise extended to Boston. She left that port in July of last year on another cruise, going first to England, then to Holland, Belgium, France and Portugal. From European ports she went to the West Indies. From there she was ordered to Venezuela. Returning from southern waters, she stopped at Washington, and from there went to Boston, coming to Brooklyn from the latter place.

When the Hartford leaves here she will go on another European and West Indian cruise, returning to Hampton Roads on October 1. While the historic ship is at the navy yard a company of her bluejackets will take part in the military tournament in Madison Square Garden.

MRS. VAN COTT'S BIRTHDAY.

Revivalist Recently In St. Louis Is 71 Years Old.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CATSKILL, N. Y., March 26.—Mrs. Maggie Van Cott, the evangelist, who of late years has made her home in this village, and who last week began a series of revival meetings in St. Louis, today celebrated the 71st anniversary of her birth.

Wind Destroyed Smokestack.

At 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, during the high wind, a smokestack in the rear of the Keiselhorst Piano Co. fell, taking with it telephone and electric light wires. The only damage done was to the building next door, occupied by the White Catering Co., which was damaged to the extent of $150.

MAY FIGHT THE STEEL TRUST.

Talk in England of Protective Duty on Its Products.

LONDON, March 26.—Sheffield received little comfort from the answer of the chancellor of the exchequer to a question whether the American Steel Trust could be fought by import duties. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach made the stereotyped reply that there could be no official forecasts in advance of the budget speech. He had dealt in a similar way with inquiries respecting sugar and other articles menaced with taxation, but it is an easy inference that steel would not be favored if free trade principles were to be abandoned for the sake of raising fresh revenues.

Agricultural products will naturally have the old Tory's preference if tariff revision for revenue purpose is indispensable. It is probable, however, that Sir Michael Hicks-Beach will borrow heavily instead of upsetting the free trade system and giving the Liberals an issue on which all factions can unite. Sugar offers a compromise, since the duties will be strictly for revenue and no special industry will be benefited by them, except possibly the refining interest. Steel duties would be protective outright and if the optimistic article printed about the Norway Sands and Edison's process are credible, English steel makers have found a scientific method for smashing American competition. There is, however, much searching of hearts among the steel makers on this score.

Some of them insist upon having guarantees that the Edison process may not also be employed by the American trust.

BOYS STOLE DYNAMITE STICK

They Hadn't Time to Regret That They Afterward Pounded It With a Brick.

CHICAGO, March 26.—As a result of stealing a stick of dynamite two Polish boys of Hawthorne received probable fatal injuries and several others were burned and bruised, but not seriously. The seriously injured:

Stephen Kawozinski, 9 years old, one eye thought to be gone, dangerous wounds on head and breast; may die.

Harmon Loswiskovi, 8 years old, scalp wounds and internal injuries; condition serious.

The accident happened as the childr were going home from school. Thi them stopped to see the men putti the Hawthorne sewer. The watched the men blow up some and some of the boys thought it fun to get some of the sticks and see they could do with them.

No one saw the boys take the stick of namite, but the crowd of children w down the street to a sand pile and co menced to experiment with the explosive. Kawozinski stood on two bricks between which was placed the dynamite. Lowiskovi, after trying divers other methods to produce an explosion, pounded the brick with a piece of iron. There was a report. Kawozinski and Lowiskovi received the worst injuries, while all the others were more or less burned and bruised.

PARISH SCHOOL BOYS

WITH AID OF THE POST-DISPATCH

WILL HAVE A LEAGUE

Pupils of All Schools Are Expected to Send In the Names of Their Baseball Teams Before April 15, When the League Will Be Formed.

Boys will be boys, and all boys are alike. Master Clarence Kimmins of 1967 Alice avenue, and his companions in the Holy Name Parochial School, having read the stories of the Post-Dispatch Public School Baseball League, are ambitious to form a parochial school league.

Master Kimmins asks the Post-Dispatch to father the organization. This request is gladly granted, and a St. Louis Parochial School Baseball League will be organized.

Master Kimmins suggests as probable members of the league the folliwing schools: Holy Name, St. Leo, St. Lawrence O'Toole, St. Theresa, St. Malalachy, St. Bridget and the Visitation School.

Any parochial school desiring to join the league should send its entry immediately with the names of the players.

The Post-Dispatch will give a trophy to the winning team, providing six teams shall enter the league and play throughout the season.

The entrance list closes April 15, the same as the Public School League. Details of the management, such as the board of control and umpires, will be announced later.

The Post-Dispatch will gladly receive suggestions of any pupil of the parochial schools.

WAS WATCHED BY DETECTIVES

This Is the Ground for Mrs. Steele's Cross Bill.

LAWYER STARK TESTIFIED

HIRED A MAN AND A WOMAN FOR SECRET WORK.

William H. Steele, Whose Wife Sued Him for a Divorce a Year Ago, Now Seeks Legal Separation.

Charles B. Stark, atorney for William H. Steel, in his suit for divorce from Harriet L. Steele, in Judge Zachritz's court, told on the witness stand Tuesday morning how he employed two persons, a man and a woman, to act as detectives and investigate the actions of Mrs. Steele, which he considered suspicious.

He also said that since the filing of the present suit in February, 1900, he had employed a detective for a few days to watch Mr. and Mrs. Steele while they were at the West End Hotel.

Steele's main allegation against his wife in his suit for divorce is that a previous suit which she brought against him for dvorce was instituted for persecution and to injure him. In her cross-bill Mrs. Steele alleged that during the pendency of the first suit, and also since its close, Mr. Steele had shadowed her with detectives.

Mr. Stark was placed on the stand by John A. Blevins, the attorney for Mrs. Steele. He said that the two detectives he employed in 1898 and 1899 were an attorney named Rosenberg and a woman named Viola Davidson. He denied that he ever instructed them to shadow Mrs. Steeele, but merely to make investigations among persons who had boarded where she did as to whether her conduct had been entirely without blame. He said he thought, as the attorney for Mr. Steele, he had a right to this knowledge in order that he might use it in his case.

When questioned as to why he had suspicions regarding Mrs. Steele, he said they were awakened by things Mr. Steele told him. He testified that among these things were that she had rented a private box at the postoffice, that she came home evenings in a closed carriage which her husband said he recognized as that of a well-known man in St. Louis and that she had carried in her purse the address of a man. He said that, according to Mr. Steele, she refused to explain any of these actions.

He said he discharged Rosenberg in March, 1899, when he found out that she knew detectives were watching her. He declared that this was the first intimation he had had of the fact that Rosenberg and Miss Davidson had been tracking Mrs. Steele.

When asked about the detective employed at the West End Hotel, Mr. Stark said that his client, Mr. Steele, had never known of that and that the detective had been in his service only a few days. He said that he employed him on his own responsibility.

Mr. Blevins tried to induce Mr. Stark to say that he had employed the A. L. Stanard Detective Agency in Chicago, to watch Mrs. Steele, while she was there. Mr. Stark denied this emphatically, but admitted that he had had a correspondence with Stanard and had called on him once while in Chicago on other business. The correspondence was offered in evidence.

CITY HALL POLICE COURT

Henry Leedell's attempt to ride to 919 Manchester avenue on a Chouteau avenue car Monday evening resulted disastrously. He ran for the car at Fourteenth and Papin streets from the far side of the street. A closed gate barred his way and he grabbed hold of the rear fender.

In this position he was dragged several feet through the mud.

After he boarded the car he indulged in comments on the transit company and railroad people in general, that failed to delight Austin Miles, the conductor. A fight followed and Special Policeman John P. Bull, who was on the car, arrested Ledell.

Before Judge Sidener Tuesday morning Leedell protested that his arrest was a rank injustice, scornfully cross-examined Miles and Bull and showed the court holes in the tips of his bulldog shoes that had been made by dragging along behind the fender.

Ledell, who was well dressed, admitted that he had a few beers before coming to court and Judge Sidener said "Five dollars."

Rufus Paris was a defendant in a disturbance of the peace case as a result of a feud between Western Union messenger boys and the negro mortar mixers on a new downtown building. Paris threw a hoe at Walter Cox, a 10-year-old messenger, Monday, and Cox's employer caused his arrest. Young Cox said he just threw some sand over Paris' mortar bed moved his shovel "a little bit."

Paris says he was instructed to keep the boys away.

He was discharged. "If you catch any of those boys around this mortar bed again," the court said to Policeman Cuddihee, "bring them in here, and I'll send them to the Workhouse."

John Greank will be more careful in future where he goes late at night searching for his friends. He told Judge Sidener he went into the yard of Joe Racker's residence, 2841 South Third street, after midnight Tuesday morning looking for a fellow-workman.

Though Greank is 45 years old, he looked like a burglar to Racker under the circumstances, and he sent for a policeman. Patrolman Eichorn responded, and Eichorn threatened to "lick" him.

Greank was fined $10.

WANTS HANNA FOR PRESIDENT

Senator Scott Has Again Broken Loose.

"GOD FEARING CHRISTIAN MAN"

SENATOR HANNA WROTE HIM HE INTENDED TO CUFF HIM.

The Ohio Boss Talks of Prosperity, Nebraska and Delaware, and Secretary Hay's Wonderful Diplomacy.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Senator Scott of West Virginia says he wants to see Mr. Hanna made President. Mr. Hanna thinks the man has wheels.

Senator Scott achieved renown in a night last fall when at a banquet in this city he eulogized the trusts. Later he denied saying the things attributed to him. The dishes couldn't testify, so the matter was hung up as it stood.

The West Virginian came to town today, and, though he had sworn he never would again, he proceeded to let himself be interviewed. The result was a eulogy of Hanna as "A citizen, Republican and God-fearing Christian man." His indorsement of Mr. Hanna for the presidency was a natural consequence. Senator Hanna came to town a little while after the indorsement had been launched. He read and became weary.

"Yes," said Senator Hanna, "I noticed what Scott said, and I wrote to him that I'd cuff him if he didn't let up."

Senator Hanna exhibits much displeasure of the failure of Delaware and Nebraska Legislatures to elect United States senators.

"It has been asserted," he said, "that I have wanted to see Mr. Addicks elected in Delaware. There is no truth in that. I wanted to see two Republicans elected, and I was not unduly particular as to who they were.

"My only interest in the Nebraska situation is that the people of that state want representation in Washington, and it's a shame they cannot have it. After their splendid fight for the Legislature it is regretable that the victory of the Republicans should be fruitless."

Senator Hanna expressed an optimistic view of conditions in all parts of the country, and predicted that the nation will be more prosperous than ever.

Referring to the situation in China, Senator Hanna said:

"As the boys say, we have got the edge of it there. The diplomacy of the United States has been brilliant, and Secretary Hay has shown great wisdom and discretion in his conduct of the matter. The course of this country has been beyond reproach. We distinctly announced when we went into China that we were not striving to gain territory, but were simply there to protect the lives of American citizens and to guard our commercial interests. This country is not taking any part in schemes for the dismemberment of China. Its course has been dignified from the start, and has commanded the respect of the entire world, and the intelligent Chinese have confidence in us."

WITH A CAPITAL OF $300,000,000

George Gould Plans a Vast Railway Combination.

MISSOURI PACIFIC SYSTEM.

MAY INCLUDE ILLINOIS CENTRAL, C. & A. AND THE FRISCO.

Gould to Be Allied in This Scheme With Harriman and Have the Corporations of the Morgan and Rockefeller Interests.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 26.—George Gould's plan to become the head of a combination of railroads capitalized at $300,00,000 is progressing favorably. His plan meets with the approval and has the co-operation of J. Pierpont Morgan, the Rockefellers and the Harriman syndicate.

The unification of the Gould system under control of the Missouri Pacific will include the Missouri Pacific, St. Louis & Iron Mountain, St. Louis Southwestern, Texas & Pacific, International & Great Northern, Wabash, Missouri, Texas & Pacific and the Denver & Rio Grande. George Gould has just bought a controlling interest in this latter railroad, and it is intimated that he purposes to utilize it as an important factor in the construction of the greater Missouri Pacific system, of which he will be the head.

It is known definitely that the roads named will be included in the scheme of consolidation, but it is probable that when the negotiations now pending shall have been completed it will be found that the list will have been augmented by the addition of the Illinois Central, Chicago & Alton, Chicago & Eastern Illinois, The St. Louis & San Francisco and the Kansas City Southern.

The Railroad Securities Co., which was organized several weeks ago by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., E. H. Harriman and George Gould, will acquire a controlling interest in all of the companies and will operate them as one combination, though only corporate integrity will be maintained.

The Rockefellers and George Gould have reached an agreement whereby they will immediately set about the construction of a railroad from El Paso, Tex., to Santa Rita, N. M., and thence to Santa Fe. The importance of this new line in any plan for extending the power and scope of the Missouri Pacific can be readily understood when the fact is taken into consideration that El Paso is the western terminus of the Texas & Pacific, which is controlled by the Missouri Pacific, and Santa Fe is reached by the southernmost branch of the Denver & Rio Grande, so that such an extension would connect the Texas & Pacific with the Denver & Rio Grande, a very important link in Gould's chain of southwestern railroads.

This explains George Gould's recent extensive purchases of stock in the Denver & Rio Grande and also its remarkable strength of late in the stock market.

The arrival in New York from London yesterday of Ansel Oppenheim, the first vice-president and practical manager of the Chicago Great Western Railroad, familiarly known as the Maple Leaf, led to rumors that Gould contemplated purchasing the road and adding it to the lines he proposed utilizing in his projected combination. Some strength was lent to this proposition by the fact that before Mr. Oppenheim so hurriedly left London for New York he gave an interview on the railroad situation in which he said:

"Consolidation is becoming the order of the day in the United States. Competition has been so great there that large financial interests have become satisfied that the only way to maintain a fair rate of dividends for owners of American securities lies in consolidation. So far as our line is concerned, there are negotiations now pending which may result in the road being absorbed. But all I can say at the moment is that every shareholder will be protected."

George Gould, when asked if he contemplated purchasing the road answered, "Most assuredly not," and conveyed the impression that he did not consider the acquisition of the road material to his scheme of railroad consolidation and extension.

One hundred and seventy houses in the place are reported to have been destroyed by the marauders, and a number of the inhabitants who are made up of Mussulmans and Bulgarians, are said to have been killed.

MILLIONS IN GUSHER

BEAUMONT OIL WELL PRODUCES $28,000 A DAY.

70,000 BARRELS IN 24 HOURS

At This Rate of Flow the Income for One Year Will Be $10,220,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 26.—R. A. Greer of Beaumont, a member of the Texas Legislature, returned here today from a visit to the new oil district. He says that the flow of the great Lucas oil gusher was turned into an oil tank which has a capacity of 35,000 barrels. The tank was filled in twelve hours lacking twelve minutes. At this rate the flow of the well per day of twenty-four hours is 70,000 barrels.

At the price of 40 cents per barrel, the Lucas well will bring to Guffey and Galey, the owners, a revenue of $28,000 per day. If the well holds out one year at the present rate the revenue which it will bring to its owners will reach the fabulous sum of $$10,220,000. Judge Greer says there are eight wells situated in the imediate vicinity of the Lucas well, which will be "brought in" within the next ten days.

TO DISCUSS RACE PROBLEM

Important Session of American Academy of Political and Social Science in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 26.—The fifth annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science will be held here April 12 and 13, the general topic being "America's Race Problem." The annual address of "The Causes of Race Superiority" will be given by Prof. Edward A. Ross, formerly of Leland Stanford University, and now of the University of Nebraska.

Of the other three sessions, one will be devoted to a discussion of the races of the Pacific, at which Dr. Titus Monson Coan of New York city will speak on "The Natives of Hawaii." Dr. Charles C. Pierce, chaplain United States army, and Dr. Oliver C. Miller, also chaplain United States army, both but recently returned from the Philippines, will contribute papers on "The Races of the Philippines."

Another session will be devoted to the race problem in the South, at which there will be a paper on "The Relation of the Whites to the Negroes," by a prominent southerner, and two papers on "The Relation of the Negroes to the Whites," one by Dr. W. E. Burghardt du Bois, and the other by Booker T. Washington. At the last session the topic will be "The Races of the West Indies," with papers by Senator Platt, chairman of the United States Senate committee on relations with Cuba, who will speak on "Our Relations to the Peoples of Cuba and Porto Rico," and Charles N. Pepper, the well-known author and newspaper correspondent, who will speak on "The Native Spanish Peoples of Cuba and Porto Rico," and Prof. W. Z. Ripley of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who will speak on "The West Indian Negro."

The afternoon sessions will be held at the Manufacturers' Club, which extends all its courtesies to the visiting member of the academy, and the evening sessions at the New Century drawing room.

Swallowing

A sword is a trick not conducive to health or longevity. But it is not more injurious than the hasty swallowing of half masticated food washed down by gulps of ice water in summer or cups of hot coffee in winter. Hasty eating is the foe of health. Sooner or later it must result in indigestion or some other form of stomach disease.

For the cure of the diseases of the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition, there is no medicine so effective as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It always helps. It almost always cures.

Mrs. Mary E. Lewis, of Tanner, Gilmer Co., W. Va., writes: "I will always recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' for they cured me when doctors and other medicines failed. For fifteen years I suffered untold misery. When I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines, I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I could not lie down to sleep, and everything I ate would almost cramp me to death. Was very nervous and could hardly walk across the room. I only weighed ninety pounds when I commenced taking these medicines six years ago; I now weigh one hundred and forty pounds, and am having better health than ever before. My friends all say they can hardly believe that I am the same person; after being sick so long. I have changed to be robust and rosy cheeked. I have taken fifteen bottles of the 'Discovery' fifteen of the 'Prescription' and fifteen of the 'Pellets.'"

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only, or if cloth binding is desired send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MARSHALL FIELD'S DAUGHTER

Her Husband Is Suing For Divorce and Report Says She Will Wed an English Officer.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 26.—Lambert Tree, Jr., son of the former minister to Turkey, has brought suit for absolute divorce from his wife, who is the daughter of Marshall Field. The grounds alleged in the bill are desertion.

Mrs. Tree is now traveling in the south of France. The husband is at their home at Leamington, England, but he is still nominally a resident of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Tree were married about 15 years ago, and immediately went to England, where they have lived ever since in a costly mansion given them by Marshall Feld, who also supplied a rich dowry for the daughter. It is said the divorce will be followed by the marriage of Mrs. Tree to an English army officer of good family.

WEDDED TO MISS AH FONG

NEW YORK, March 26.—Lieut. Andrew J. Dougherty was wedded Sunday at Manila to Miss Martha Ah Fong, the accomplished daughter of Wing Ah Fong, the millionaire Chinese merchant of Honolulu, and one of the thirteen girls of the family. This is announced in a cable to friends here.

Lieut. Dougherty graduated from the Southern Illinois Normal University, class of 1894, and in his junior year at the University of Illinois was expelled for refusing to divulge the names of those involved in a class rush. He served with distinction at El Caney and San Juan, and was made a lieutenant for gallant conduct. They will reside in Honolulu.

Norwegian Soldiers Use the Ski.

In Norway the ski is in constant use during the winter, and the ease with which great distances can be covered is surprising, says a London newspaper. Peasants are thus able to get about their work and visit friends in faraway districts. Sportsmen, with gun on back and stick in hand, set out in pursuit of game on ski, and the soldiers are reduced to this means of getting about when exercising. A regiment of soldiers on ski is a sight by no means uncommon in and around Christiania.
